Sharon Roberts Chosen 'Miss Sierra Snowflake'

By ELLEN ATTARDI

A blonde beauty from Truckee, Sharon Roberts, captured the 1970 Miss Sierra Snowflake title at the beauty pageant and SNO-BALL held at the Nevada Lodge last Friday night. She was crowned with much ceremony and presented with the queen's robe, a tiara, a trophy, red roses and a check for $150 from the Greater North Lake Tahoe Chamber of Commerce.

Sharon is a June, 1969, graduate of Tahoe-Truckee High School and was very active in school affairs there where, in her senior year, she was voted the "best looking" girl in the class. Sharon also was active in Girls' League, held class offices, and was voted a homecoming princess. The new queen was sponsored by the Truckee Lions Club.

Runners-up for the Snowflake honors were Lynn Aro of Tahoe City, who was sponsored by the Homewood Ski Area, and Kristina St. George of Squaw Valley, who was sponsored by Roos-

Atkins and the Hearthstone. Lynn, who is a ski instructor at Homewood and a graduate of Tahoe-Truckee High School, received a trophy and a check for $100. Kristina, a graduate of a Walnut Creek high school and who works here as a ski instructor and a clerk at Roos-Atkins, received a trophy and a check for $50.

All of the contestants received trophies for their participation in the event and they were Cindy Benson, Liz Brazet, Jo Burris, Cathy Fields, Cindy Hiatt, Mary McCaffrey, Karla Meixner, Nancy Millsbaugh, Barbara Randol, Debbie Rich and Michele Sayre.

Jo Burris of Incline Village received a special plaque on stage after being voted Miss Congeniality by the contestants.

Acting as judges for the contest, which was MCed by Danny Marvin of Oceanside, were Bob Carroll of KTVN, Reno; climatologist John James; Olympic skating star and gold medalist Barbara Grogan; disc jockey Steve Atkins of KTHO; and Snowshoe Thompson of Reno. Presiding judges were Barney and Eileen Wilen of Kings Beach. Chamber president Gardner Mein reports that this 9th Annual Snowflake was the best one ever, with much of the success due to the efforts of chairman Marilyn Fugazi and chamber manager Betty Layton.

1970 MISS SNOWFLAKE AND PRINCESSES - Kristina St. George, Squaw Valley, and Lynn Aro, Homewood, were runners-up to Sharon Roberts, Donner Lake, in this year's "Miss Sierra Snowflake" competition. Miss St. George was sponsored by Roos-Atkins and Hearthstone, Miss Aro by Homewood Ski Area, and Miss Roberts by the Truckee Lion's Club.

One Man's Opinion

By CARL BRIGGS

Honorable Harold T. Johnson
Member of Congress
Washington, D.C.
Dear Bizz:

We don't know at the present time how much the dam on Martis Creek is going to cost but it is safe to assume that it will run several millions of dollars of the people's money and there is a persistent and growing feeling, in my own mind and expressed by others, that it's all a monumental waste.

It wouldn't be fair to call it a boondoggle, and I won't, even though similarities exist. When the dam was conceived as part of the Washoe Project to afford flood protection for Reno, there seemed to be ample need and justification with little objection. Until very recently — perhaps just a couple of years ago — Martis Valley was a shallow basin filled with sagebrush, good for summer grazing but not regarded by most folks as being worth much for anything else. That situation has changed. Martis Valley is now considered prime land. It is virtually surrounded by subdivisions and planned recreational communities.

The dam will be a "flood control" facility, yet Martis Creek hasn't run enough water in many years, even in the spring, to fill a four-foot culvert.

Reno is already protected by dams at Boca, Prosser, Stampede Valley, Donner Lake, and Lake Tahoe, affording sufficient flood control for all but one in million situations, and then the degree of protection possible by damming this creek would be merely in the "wet feet" category. On top of this, the Army Engineers still want to dam the Truckee River itself, and they will if they get their way — which they usually do. A Truckee River dam would doubly compound the uselessness of a dam on Martis Creek.

In the Engineers' cost-benefit ratio, theoretical recreation benefits were listed as further justification for the dam. Martis Valley is exceedingly porous, however, and a permanent recreational reservoir is impossible without bottom sealing. The pond behind Martis Dam will be scarcely more than a mud hole, a joke to sportsmen.

It's flood-control potential is further depleted by Trimont's announced plan to dam Martis Creek further upstream and use its water as a domestic supply. Construction of the Trimont dam will commence this year.

Any use of the Martis Valley dam for its stated purpose will flood the meadow on both sides of Highway 267. The water will then recede quickly, percolating into the Sandy soil, and the meadow overnight will

Officials Finally Get Pay Raises

Five elected county department heads received a belated Christmas present this week — a pay raise.

These officials had been bypassed when most county employees received raises last July which averaged about 10 per cent, although one of them got

Chamber Backs Bond Proposal

The Greater North Lake Tahoe Chamber of Commerce at a director's meeting Thursday at Squaw Valley Lodge added its support to the school bond issue which will be voted upon in an election to take place in Tahoe — Truckee Unified School District Feb. 24.

The district is seeking approval of an increased interest rate — from five to seven per cent — on $1 million in unsold school bonds. Sale of the bonds will permit construction of the new Rideout Elementary School on the west shore of Lake Tahoe and expansion of overcrowded Truckee Elementary School.

Chamber directors listened to Zeph Rose of Truckee explain the issue and then voted to endorse approval of the higher interest rate.

an increase last year in another part of his two-dimensional job. The new pay scales approved by resolution, and the amount of increase are as follows:

Sheriff - $16,032 a year, up $2,576 or 19 per cent.

Assessor - $14,532 a year, up $2,466 or 20 per cent.

Clerk-recorder - $13,176, up $1,956 or 17 per cent.

Treasurer-tax collector - $13,176, up $2,001 or 18 per cent.

Controller - $15,212, up $1,912 or 18 per cent.

The elected official who received a raise both Tuesday and last year was John T. Trauer. As auditor, his pay was raised by the Legislature at the same time a raise was given the district attorney.

The Department Heads Association, at the request of the board, studied these salaries and recommended the levels which were approved by the supervisors. William Heafey, president of the association, explained to The Union that the percentage of increase recommended for the controller was more than others in an attempt to bring the auditor-controller's total salary to the same level as that for sheriff, $16,032.

Heafey told the board that failing to increase salaries of elected officials last summer caused an awkward problem in one department in which the chief assistant has been making $50 more per month than the department head.

Heafey told The Union he was referring to the assessor, Elton Tobiasen, whose previous $12,066 pay was below that of his chief appraiser.

The board approved the raises 4-1 with Supervisor Ralph Buchanan voting no. He said the officials involved "are all mighty fine" but felt "the amount of increase is too large at this time."

Earlier, Buchanan opposed trying to keep Nevada county salaries in line with other counties.

"Nevada county is not an industrial county and not an agricultural county," Buchanan maintained. "It is a little different, and we should consider this aspect."

"I think most people come to Nevada County because of the climate, the desirability of the county as a place to live. That is probably the most important reason people are moving to this county."

Eight Hurt In Bus-Auto Collision

Eight persons were injured in a bus-auto mishap on eastbound Interstate 80 near Cisco Grove Saturday, according to the California Highway Patrol.

Six passengers in a Greyhound bus received minor injuries and indicated they would seek private medical care. Felix Pourtau, 31, Colma, the driver of the auto, and a passenger, Barbara DiMare, 23, San Mateo, were taken to Tahoe Forest Hospital with chest and back injuries.

Reports indicate Pourtau was apparently following a second Greyhound bus when the accident occurred. When the bus suddenly swerved into a snowbank to avoid a collision with an unknown hazard, Pourtau veered to the right and was struck from behind by the other bus driven by William Comer, 46, San Rafael. The Pourtau vehicle incurred major rear-end damage, officers said.

Arrest Youth On Parole Violation

A 17-year-old Soda Springs boy was arrested Thursday by Nevada County sheriff's officers on a charge of violation of parole and was later discovered to be in possession of dangerous drugs, reports said.

He was taken into custody by juvenile authorities and transferred to juvenile hall in Auburn.

Wolverines Continue Winning Ways

The cage squad from Tahoe-Truckee High School remained strong Pioneer league title contenders after downing Colfax 52-47 last Tuesday in their home court.

Doug Lindsey registered 17 points to pace the Wolverines for the win, making the team tied with Del Oro with two victories apiece. Bill Kinzie scored 15 points and Chris Wiser helped with 14 points.

Overall the TNT squad has an impressive 12-2 season record. They will meet Lincoln here tonight for another league match.

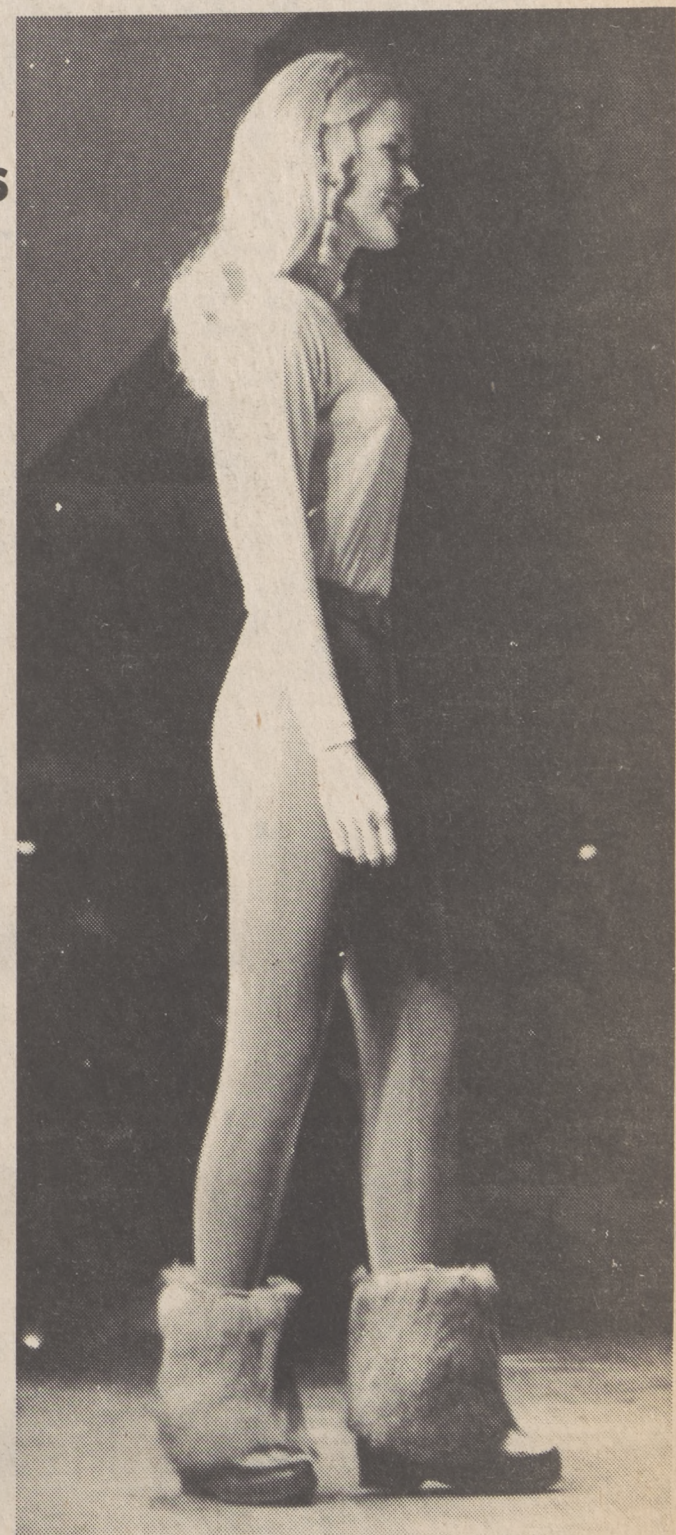

Other games scheduled, weather permitting, are: January 23 at Del Oro; January 24, Yerington (here); January 30, Wheatland (here); January 31 at Reno Ramblers; February 6 at Colfax; February 7, Loyalton (here); February 11, Colusa (here); February 13 at Lincoln; February 20, Del Oro (here); February 21, Reno Ramblers (here); and February 21, Reno Ramblers (here); and February 27 at Wheatland.

Require Chain Work Permit

Persons installing or removing tire chains for a fee without having a chain aid permit will be arrested, according to the Nevada County sheriff's office.

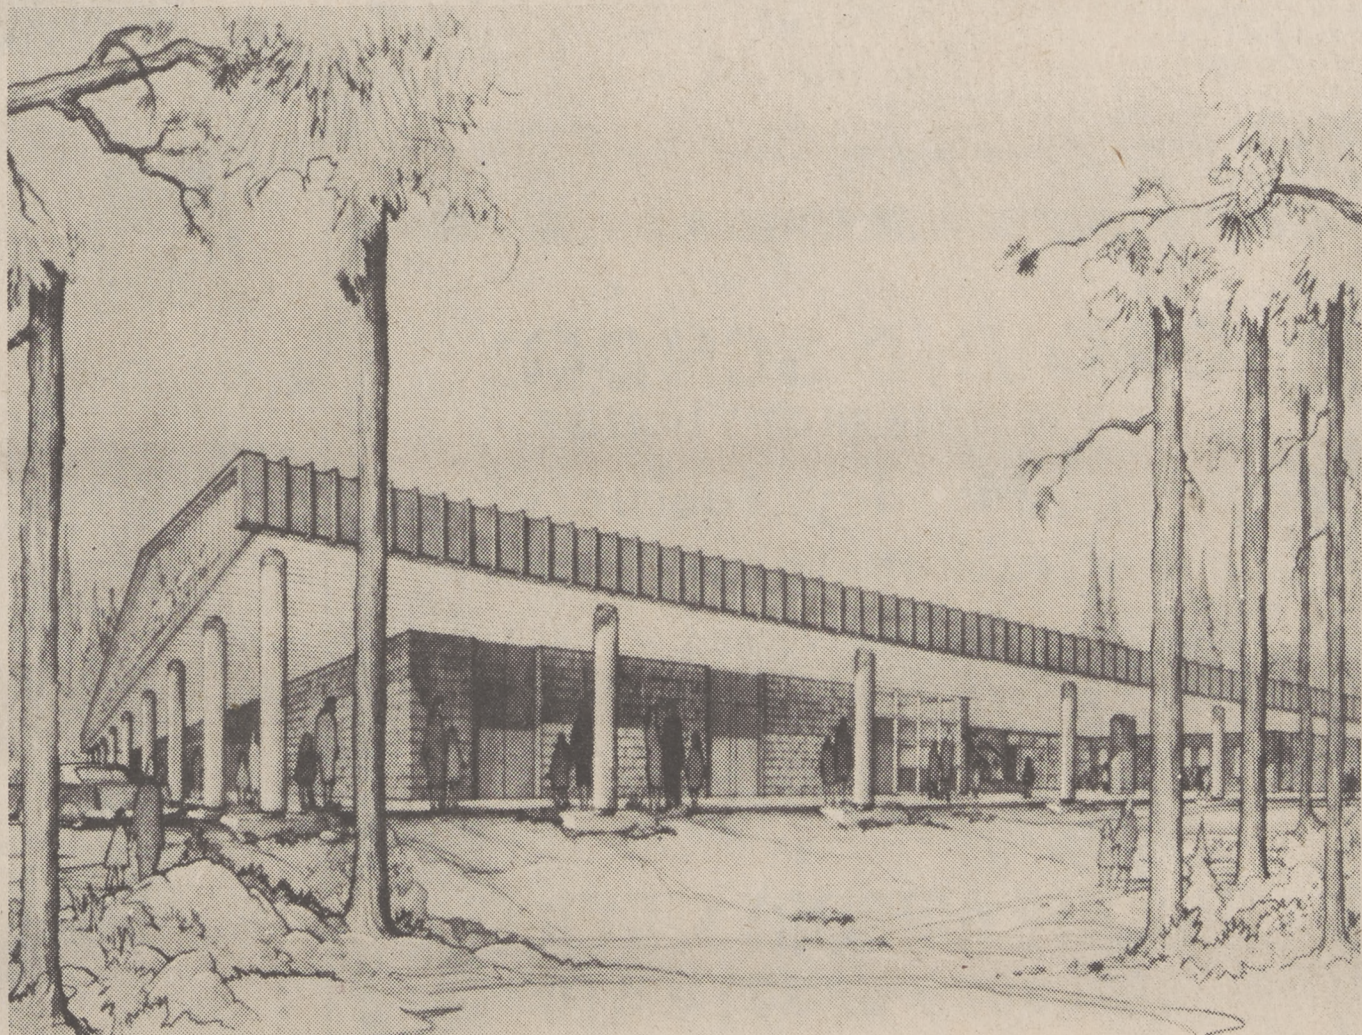

The crackdown on the illegal businessmen will be directed primarily against those operating on Interstate 80 atop Donner Summit, officers said.

Permits for Nevada County residents can be obtained from the sheriff's office in Truckee for $5 with residents of California paying $25 and out-of-state persons $50.

WINNING FORM - Sharon Roberts, Donner Lake, captured the "Miss Sierra Snowflake" crown for 1970 at the ninth annual Snowflake Friday at the Nevada Lodge. Miss Roberts was sponsored by the Truckee Lion's Club.

NEW SCHOOL NEAR TAHOE CITY - The proposed Rideout Elementary school three miles south of Tahoe City will relieve an increasing demand for more classrooms in the Tahoe-Truckee Unified School District. Approval of the February 24 district request to sell $1 million in school bonds at seven per cent interest instead of five per cent will provide the needed funds for the project.

Letter To The Editor

(EDITOR'S NOTE: The following letter was addressed to Mrs. Dorothy Fordham of the Truckee-Donner Historical Society and is from the granddaughter of C.F. McGlashan, author of the definitive "History of the Donner Party" and former publisher and editor of the Truckee Republican.)

Dear Mrs. Fordham:

Thank you for your note at the bottom of the tract you sent which tells of the Historical Society's plans. It is very exciting that you are hoping to have the rocking stone declared a California landmark. As a child, I played at the base of the stone for that was my home. My grandparents, the C.F. McGlashans, raised me.

I suppose you know that C.F. McGlashan purchased the hill about 1891 when he conceived the idea for a museum to hold the Donner Party relics. Coins were found in 1891 that revived interest in Donner Party history. He built the museum and house to match in 1893. In the museum he also displayed his nationally famous butterfly collection, Indian baskets and artifacts, John Keiser's Civil War uniform (he was C.F.'s father-in-law and my great grandfather), and many curios from all parts of the world which were sent to him by kindred spirits with hobbies like his own.

The Rocking Stone Tower had a bridge that connected it with the house and I, like his daughters before me, used to conduct tours for 25 cents a person. People passing through who had to kill time between trains would come to the tower, as well as summer tourists with automobiles. The tower was used as a winter sports beacon in 1895, when my grandfather constructed an immense icicle close to the base and played lights on it at night. The icicle, I understand, "grew" from an original core of chicken wire wrapped around a wooden frame. This was so successful he then built the Ice Palace and skating rink downtown and Truckee winter sports began to attract thousands who came in special excursion trains—when the snow lasted.

If you have any questions our family might answer, don't hesitate to write. I will be happy to inquire around. Only two daughters are living now. Mrs. J.C. Howard in Berkeley and Dr. G.F. Kelley, son-in-law of McGlashan, may have helpful knowledge. Mrs. Howard in Berkeley and Dr. G.F. Kelley, son-in-law of McGlashan, may have helpful knowledge. Mrs. Howard in Berkeley and Dr. G.F. Announce Three Timber Sales In Tahoe Forest Hank Branagh, Tahoe National Forest Supervisor, has announced the awarding of contracts for three timber sales sold in recent weeks.

The East Fork sale was awarded to Lausmann Lumber and Moulding Company December 19. The sale area is on the Big Bend District and contains an estimated 10,700 MBF of marked timber. This volume consists of mixed conifer species containing ponderosa pine, sugar pine, white fir, Douglas-fir and incense-cedar. Advertised lump sum value was $274,030 and the successful bid was $274,120. Georgia Pacific Corp. also submitted a bid on this offering.

DiGiorgio Lumber Company was awarded the contract for the McMahon sale held December 22. The sale area contains approximately 11,700 MBF of marked timber and is located on the Downville Ranger District. White and red fir and sugar pine comprised the majority of the volume. Advertised lump sum value was $365,130 and the successful bid was $365,250. Other bidders for this sale were Yuba River Lumber Company and Georgia Pacific Corporation.

The Dolly sale sold December 30 with award being made to Stockton Box Company by Regional Forester Jack W. Deinema. Located on the Foresthill District, this sale area contains 27,900 MBF, the largest volume of the three recent sales. The volume contained 70 per cent white and red fir with the remainder being composed of pine species. Advertised lump sum value was $438,200 and the successful bid was $496,135. Bids were also received from Erickson Lumber Company, Georgia Pacific Corporation and Yuba River Lumber Company.

News From The Past

25 Years Ago

January 25, 1945

Adding greatly to the attractiveness and convenience of the store, a job of remodeling has been completed at Tonini's Grocery. The new counters and showcases are a noteworthy improvement and the new floor covering installed by the Donner Mercantile is most attractive and serviceable. Donner Mercantile also installed the modern and attractive fluorescent lighting system at the Goodfellow's Cafe, which is also a great improvement.

"Camera Thrills," "Axis Smashed in Africa," and "U.S. Fighting Marines" were the timely titles of the films shown at last night's meeting of the Lions Club when E. L. Loynd presented the entertaining program. H. T. Langille presided.

Superior Judge Lowell L. Sparks of Placer County selected Placer County's first new grand jury list in three years when he filed 60 names with Miss Lillian Rechenmacher, county clerk. Among the names were Andrew Sorenson of Tahoe Vista and N. R. Mayfield of Tahoe City.

Electricians Mate Frank Giovannoni has completed his studies at St. Louis and passed through here this week en route to a Pacific Coast port of embarkation.

Marty Arrague, former well known skier of this area who spent much of his time on Donner Summit before the war, is now a lieutenant in the naval air service.

30 Years Ago

Believed to have set an all time record for winter sports crowds in this vicinity, more than 15,000 fans congregated on Donner Summit last Sunday to frolic in the ideal snow and enjoy sorts and storekeepers reported the biggest day in their history as thousands of cars lined the highways and extra trains brought hundreds to the recreational spot.

The recent tragic accident that claimed the life of Frans Wiesing in the flower of his youth is timely emphasized on the importance of observing the cardinal rule of staid skiing: Never go off the beaten path alone, states DeWitt Nelson, supervisor of the Tahoe National Forest. It was on forest that Wiesing lost his life and the search which ultimately resulted in the finding of his body was conducted by district ranger John R. Hodgson.

Charles A. Carrau, for the past 15 years manager and part owner of Truckee-Tahoe Lumber Company, announced this week that he has disposed of his interests and plans to retire from active work for the time being.

Posters are being displayed telling of the Snow Queen dance to be held at the grammar school auditorium Saturday night under the auspices of the Truckee Outing Club.

With a broken leg, James Worden, member of the Tahoe Ski Club, got to his feet and skied 30 feet to take sixth place in the downhill race at Sun Valley Sunday.

han, may have helpful knowledge. Mrs. Howard was born in the Truckee house and, like myself, grew up in the shadow of the rocking stone. I might mention that Papa believed the stone was of glacial origin. He didn't believe the engineering job, which was most remarkable, was done by human hands. A floor like that does look almost too smooth for even a freak of nature, but . . . Anyway, in my day the stone rocked and a baby could set it in motion with one finger. A strong man, I was told, could not unbalance it without tools . . .

EDITOR, SIERRA SUN:

Please put this in your local paper. Soon as we can, we'll pay you for it! We want to thank the Nevada County Sheriff and his staff so very much for helping us get over Donner Summit January 9 with our two cars. It is the most kind deed we have ever had done for us. They were just wonderful and we would like Truckee and Nevada County to know it. Words can't express how deeply grateful we are. One day we will do a good deed for the sheriff and his staff. It was a great welcome to us, to start our new life in the State of California.

Be proud of this department. It's one to be proud of.

EDITOR, SIERRA SUN:

I am ready and willing to join forces to stop air pollution in the Truckee-North Tahoe area as you mentioned in your editorial in the Sierra Sun of January 14. I have been frustrated for a long time with the black smoke belching out of trucks and buses; fumes from lumber mills and batch plants; developer's burning pits, etc.

Read where Twin States Concerts is seeking extension of the operation of a portable batch plant in Lake Forest before the Zoning Administrator on January 22 in Auburn. Is there any organized objection to that? I know nothing about it at this point but am willing to make my objections known if it is considered an air polluter . . .

Will Observe Gold Finding This Month

This year, as in past years, Marshall Gold Discovery State Historic Park in Coloma, El Dorado County, will commemorate the day 122 years ago when James W. Marshall uttered the words, "Boys, I believe I have found a gold mine," to begin the great gold rush of 1848 that within a year brought 80,000 people to the state.

The three-day celebration, which is sponsored by the Coloma-Lotus Boosters Club and the State Department of Parks and Recreation, begins Friday, January 23. Highlighting the activities will be parades, old-fashioned melodramas, contests, a dance, and exhibitions. Food and refreshments will be readily available.

The old time melodrama will be presented Friday evening at 8 p.m. in the grange hall, and several times during the day on Sunday. On Saturday there will be a parade by E. Clampus Vitus at 1 p.m., followed at 8 p.m. by the old time miner's dance.

Sunday will be the day of the big parade starting at 1 p.m., with Assemblyman Eugene Chappie serving as parade marshal. The park's exhibits and museum will be open, and the operating replica of Sutter's sawmill where the original gold was discovered will be working. There are abundant picnic sites, and the several nearby private campgrounds will be open.

Tahoe Pioneer Is Dead At 78

The last of four men who had claimed squatter's rights at Moss Hill near the former University of California Alumni Center south of Tahoe City was buried at Trail's End Cemetery last week.

The death of John Cunningham, 78, marked the end of an era at Lake Tahoe. Cunningham died in the Placer County Hospital in Auburn. He left no known relatives. Teamsters union insurance and Social Security money will pay for any final debts.

Cunningham and three other men claimed squatter's rights in the late 1930s and built four rough cabins on the side of a draw downstream beside a creek below the Granlibakken Ski Area. U.S. Forest Service officials honored their claim but razed each cabin as each man died because it is the law that no new homesteader can remain on the land.

The men carried their own water and were without electricity or plumbing. Last year Cunningham spent his first winter at warmer elevations since he began squatting. He came back last summer and stayed until he became ill last month.

There was only one cabin left when Cunningham came back, and soon all of the property will revert back to public ownership since Cunningham now is gone, too.

EDITOR, SIERRA SUN:

Notice all property owners—attention, please!

A move is on foot, statewide, to eliminate the two-thirds majority of voters required to approve school bond issues. Since school bond issues are needed to keep pace with increasing enrollment, this becomes of great and sudden interest to property owners. If the bonds should be defaulted, the bill would have to be paid by the property owners themselves!

You had better write to your Assemblyman quickly and tell him what you think about this scheme.

(EDITOR'S NOTE: How about let's start a scheme to require three—fourths majority to approve school bond issues? That way there wouldn't be any schools and no bills to worry about.)

Placer Tax Ratio

Frank R. Chilton, Jr., Placer County Assessor, in his fourth year as a county official, has made his annual announcement of intended assessed ratio to full cash value of locally assessed property.

Opinion

have become a barren wasteland.

The fine Truckee-Tahoe Airport, already representing some $2 million of the people's money, is adjacent to the reservoir site, and a potential hazard to aerial navigation exists from fog which will be generated by the pond.

Martins Dam may have been a good idea once, but it's a bad idea now. You have said that it's "too late" to stop construction of the dam, although it has not yet gone to bid. One more incongruity.

There are many reasons for not building the dam, few reasons in favor of it. As for the money—it would be worth $5 million to the Truckee community to not have the dam there.

Too bad all that money couldn't be used where it's really needed—in the proposed sewer system which will serve the entire Truckee-North Tahoe area. Now there's a REAL challenge for you, Bizz.

The new North Tahoe Teen Center at Tahoe City is badly in need of a pool table and juke box. They don't have to be new, just workable. Call Jack Domergue and Dale Freeland at Pacific Telephone in Tahoe City.

A group of college students were interviewed on television last week. Adult critics of American youth would have loved them.

They were conservative in appearance and manner. Their campus has not been disrupted by student protest, at least in modern times.

They were asked what changes they'd like to see in the way their country is operated. Following a moment of nervous hesitation, their spokesman said they had absolutely no criticism of their government. Strict loyalty to their flag, their country, and their leaders is compulsory where they live. Dissent is dangerous to their health.

They were Russian college students. (From the "Lint Baler," by Pat Jones in the Grass Valley Union.)

We have again arrived at the season of the year when politicians take over in a big way, renewing promises forgotten since they were elected and adding new ones, generally with full knowledge that these, too, will be forgotten by their ever hopeful constituents.

This is the time when editors' wastebaskets are overworked as ream after ream of red-hot publicity, arriving from highly paid and highly ineffective public relations personnel, reaches the newspaper offices to find its rightful place in the trash. If only half the money paid for producing and distributing this useless material was spent on legitimate newspaper advertisements, designed to inform the voter of truths instead of self-praise and feeble promises, both the editors and the readers, as well as the politicians would benefit.

We have tossed into the wastebasket as many as six unopened letters daily from "Committee for Better Government" or "Support the Best Man For the Job," knowing with certainty that each was, with rare exception, the exact duplicate of the other, with verbiage changed to attract the reader.

Generally, these same politicians, with money to spend from their supporters, will use the papers for free publicity and pay the television stations cash to present themselves, after the makeup man completes his expert job on their appearance, to the viewers. So, the public relations man, the television stations, and not the newspapers benefit even though the latter is expected to present, without charge, columns of valuable space to some hopeful political figure or some cause which the public may or may not want.

Another complaint we have regarding most ambitious politicians is the friendship they pretend prior to elections and the way they can avoid these same friends, if successful in their bid, for the next four years. This, of course, is not true of all office holders. We have found those rare individuals who are deeply appreciative of the support given them and who do the job which they gained effectively and well. We repeat, however, these are rare individuals and not the run of the mill politicians.

Historic Guide To Truckee-Tahoe Area

Independence Lake has been aptly termed the gem of the Sierras. It is indeed a gem set in wild rock, gorgeous old pines, tamarack and bush, rendering the effect grand beyond description.

At an elevation of about 7,000 feet above the sea level, and about 19 miles from Truckee, it is reached by stage; the best route being via Webber Lake. The lake is about three miles long, about three quarters of a mile wide, and in some places without bottom.

It was named by the once popular but erratic "Countess of Landsfelt," more familiarly known as Lola Montez. On July 4, 1853, the then fair Lola, in company with Delano Block, Esq., of Nevada County made a trip to the lake for the purpose of seeing a vessel launched, and while there amid the popping of corks Lola christened the beautiful sheet of water "Independence," in honor of the day they were celebrating.

Little did the merry party assembled that day dream that the name would live in story and song for centuries to come; that it would be visited by tourists from all parts of the world, and that in 20 years would become one of the most popular summer resorts on the tops of the Sierra Nevada.

There is no place in California where exists a rarer, purer, more healthful atmosphere during the summer months than the section of country embraced by Webber and Independence Lakes. The days are glorious and the evening sunsets grand. Words fail to describe their grace and beauty.

The shadow of the western mountains cast a look of still sadness over all objects that is indescribable and when the still blue of early twilight has been succeeded by the darkness of night, and when the breeze rustles the leaves and the bosom of the lake, a sense of refreshing comfort pervades than no other spot on earth can grant. The busy world with its cares fades away and the charmed land of dreams steals softly on and lull over into sweet repose and calm content, untroubled and undisturbed.

The hotel at the north end of the lake is owned by Sisson, Crocker & Co. of Truckee, and employ skillful managers whose chief delight is to minister to the requirements of their guests. The fishing is excellent and the boating superb. The fish are ready biters, and even the inexperienced angler never has occasion to complain of his luck.

Four miles north of the lake can be seen Mt. Lola, rising to the grand height of 11,000 feet above the sea, and is said to give the finest view of any point of the Sierras. In fair weather can be seen Lassen peak, 81 miles distant; Mt. Shasta, 180 miles; Round Top, 60 miles; Tinker's Nob, 40 miles; Mt. Diablo, 140 miles. The entire Sacramento Valley lies spread out before the visitor, and the river can be readily traced by the belts of trees that border its banks. Deer and bear abound and the hunters of large game find sport equal to their prowess. During the season there are plenty of grouse on the surrounding hills. It is the sportsman's paradise, and one of the loveliest spots in the mountains.

Commence Operation Valentine

Children of all ages are being asked to participate in "Operation Valentine" by making valentines for servicemen in Vietnam and in military hospitals.

Valentines should be made to fit into letter-sized envelopes 3½ by 5½ inches or legal-sized envelopes, 4 by 9½ inches.

Children are asked to write their own names and addresses on the greetings. The deadline for the project is February 1.

All valentines should be sent to P. O. Box 27, Floriston, Calif., or brought to 49 Spruce St., Floriston. For more information interested children should call Judy Barben, at 587-4007. Donations for stamps and envelopes are also needed as well as servicemen's addresses.

Truckee Tales

By BETTY KIELHOFER

We did dine recently at the Coolie Corral and the food was plentiful and just great. John Collier is turning out to be a pretty good bartender too, so run on out for an evening of fun. Jimmy Parks plays the steel guitar. He told me he used to be a member of the Sandy Posy trio, on an international network in Salt Lake City. One of the most popular records they cut for Columbia was "May You Never be Alone Like Me!" Jimmy, Rod Erickson, and sometimes Susie Hughes make a nice singing trio at the Corral nightly. If you like yodeling, Rod is one of the best I've heard. When you go there, be sure to request this.

While I'm on the subject of food, I want to say we are very fortunate to have the fresh seafood dinners now served every Friday evening at Cal-Neva Lodge. You name it and it's there, served buffet and all you can eat for $3. If there's a line to wait behind, do it 'cause it's worth the time.

By the time you read this, Eve Popovich and Charlotte Harris will have arrived in Honolulu for a ten-day visit with Alex and Hazel Stewart. How lucky can a guy be? They also have an offer to stay in Val Galleron's beach house 'cause he just arrived in the States and won't be using it for a while. Can't think of anything nicer than lolling on the warm beaches and island-hopping as I look out these dreary windows today. Have you ever before heard thunder in mid-January?

Bill and Corinne Kehoe announced the arrival of their first little heiress, Julie Ann, born on the 11th. She weighed in at 7 pounds, 13 ounces. Bill and Corinne both graduated from Chico State and are now teaching. Their home is Rocklin. Congratulations, mama and papa, and to the Basil Kehoes (Grandparents), of Tahoe City.

Jim Walker arrived home from the hospital on Friday morning and is feeling much, much better. Marge is going to keep him home for a few more days but he wants everyone to know how much he appreciated receiving all the nice cards and flowers.

Olympic Heights can now boast of cable TV. Such a difference. The young Kirby boys did the installation efficiently and speedily. Anyone out there wanting a hookup, just call Tom's TV.

Kenny Osburn is crippling around Phillips 66 with torn ligaments and chipped ankle bone. Says he's getting too old for those rousing basketball games.

BACKSTAGE JITTERS - Contestants in the "Miss Sierra Snowflake" competition Friday appear slightly apprehensive as they await their turn to present themselves to judges and a capacity audience. Gardner Mein, president of the North Tahoe Chamber of Commerce, the sponsor of the gala social event, tried unsuccessfully to calm their nervousness. Note that Gardner's purse does not match his jacket.

Scene On The Summit

By MARION YOUNG

Last weekend was a big one for the Bob Maughan's household. A beautiful little six and a half pound bundle decided to check into this old world, Jan and Bob decided on the name Kimberly for their new daughter. Mother and daughter are fine.

Micki Coltrin is home and recuperating after an emergency appendectomy. What a way to start a new year.

Gonna miss Connie Holmquist at Cisco Grove. Connie has moved to the big city but says she will come back for a visit soon.

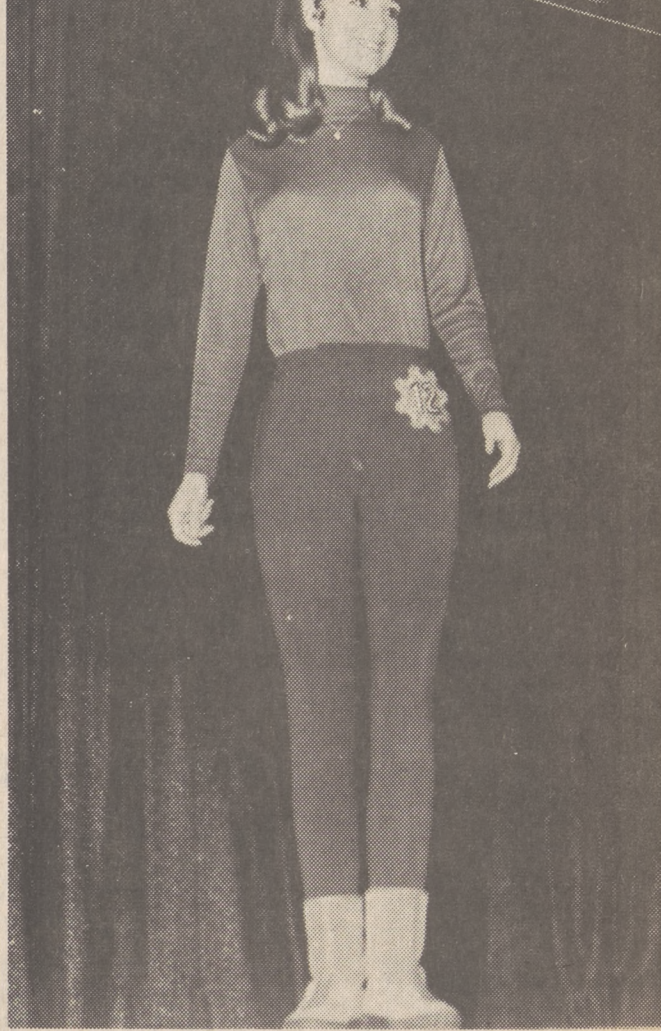

Sure was a rough row to hoe for the Sugar Bowl employees when the Magic Carpet broke down. They were transported back and forth by Weasel during the worst of the stormy weather. Everything is in working order now and are they glad.

The Donner Summit Club activities are starting again after the Christmas lull. Monday night was the first potluck supper of the new year. Keep an eye out for the post cards announcing the coming events. The club is open to suggestion from members on what they would like to accomplish this year. Put on your thinking caps and give your ideas at the meeting.

We are still having tourist trouble on the county roads. At Serene Lakes the sledders are shooting down the hills out onto the roads. So far the residents have avoided any serious accidents by being extremely careful, but it is not fair to have these conditions exist. If you come across these circumstances, call the Highway Patrol so they can put a stop to it by issuing citations. The H.P. are just as anxious to stop this as we are to have it stopped.

OPTIMIST ENTRANT - Barbara Randol, Olympic Valley, sponsored by the Tahoe City Optimists, competed against 13 other beauties from the North Tahoe-Truckee area for the title of "Miss Sierra Snowflake." A capacity crowd enjoyed a buffet dinner, beauty contest, and dancing at the premiere social event of the winter season.

West County Gets Gassed

The extension of natural gas service to the Grass Valley - Nevada City area by Pacific Gas and Electric Company will be marked by the installation and lighting of a gas lamp in front of the first office of one of PG&E's earliest predecessor companies. The civic ceremony is set for January 20 in Nevada City in front of the Yuba South Canal Company office.

William D. Laughlin, manager of PG&E's Drum Division, said today that the office, which has recently been marked for designation as a State Historical Landmark will be the site of the 11:15 a.m. ceremony to be attended by civic leaders.

The building, originally known as the Potter and Crittenden Building, also housed Ott's Assay Office where the first silver from Nevada's Comstock Lode was assayed in 1859, setting off a silver rush equal to the California gold rush 10 years earlier.

The placement of the lamp, Laughlin said, will signal the completion of a 23.6 mile pipeline installed by the company.

REVERENDS ROLL DICE - Revs. Leonard Shaheen of the St. Nicholas Episcopal Church and Robert Connelly of Assumption Catholic Church and Our Lady of the Lake Catholic Church play "liar's dice" to see who gets to draw the first winning ticket for door prizes at this year's Snowball at the Nevada Lodge.

Name Bookmobile Librarian

Nevada County's library project is one step nearer full operation with the arrival of the bookmobile librarian, Conrad Pfeiffer, a graduate librarian from the University of Oregon Library School, was introduced last week to the county supervisors by Mrs. Dorothy Sanborn, the project librarian.

Pfeiffer began work with the federally-funded project Jan. 1. He is the second professional librarian employed by the project for full-time service to Nevada County. The assistant librarian, Mrs. Doris Newman, arrived in September to work under the supervision of Mrs. Sanborn, Auburn - Placer County Librarian, who gives her time to the project through an agreement with Placer County.

Pfeiffer is a native Californian, but grew up on a farm in the Willamette Valley, Oregon. He holds a bachelor's degree in music from the University of Oregon and he spent one year teaching music and other subjects in a public school in the Willamette Valley. He was a member of the 434th Army Band from 1961 to 1963, and before returning to school for his graduate work in librarianship spent two and a half years teaching English to high school students and adults at the Institute Cultural, Jiron Cuzco, Lima, Peru.

Mrs. Sanborn's introduction of the new librarian represented a part of her progress report to the supervisors on the activities of the demonstration project. Details of her formal report, which also went to the state librarian, indicate that more than $20,000 was spent in 1969 for book purchases for Nevada County.

HAPPY NEW YEAR FROM YOUR SERVICE REPRESENTATIVES OF PACIFIC TELEPHONE

We, Marthe Johnson, Pat Self, Paula Rosenberg, Barbara Schellinger, Gene Kimbrough, Pauline Clegg and Virginia Pittam, resolve to give you the best service for 1970.

Take a look at the new Bell System symbol. It's a streamlined version of the familiar bell-in-a-circle design, but it's cleaner, bolder and stylized for more contemporary tastes.

The Question Box

Who do I call if I have a question about my telephone bill?

Just call your local Business Office; the number is printed on your bill. You'll be connected with the Service Representative who has a copy of your bill and can answer any question you may have.

News From Floriston

By JUDY BARBEN

Danny Funk, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Funk, completed his stint with the U. S. Marines this month. Dan served as a gunner on a helicopter in Vietnam. Welcome home, Dan, and thanks to you from all of us.

Home on leave from the Marines is Tom Harrison, son of Mrs. Theresa Harrison, now of Woodland. Nice to see you back, Tom; we miss your family here.

With mention of the above servicemen this seems like a perfect time to introduce "Operation Valentine." This project was conceived by a small group of local freelance writers called Rejection Slips Anonymous.

The group felt that our servicemen needed to be remembered all through the year - not just at Christmas! They are particularly asking for the help of children and teens to make valentines. These cards will be sent to servicemen in Vietnam and stateside military hospitals. The more you make the more boys we reach!

Cards should be 3 1/2" x 5 1/2" or 4" x 9 1/2" to fit in regular or legal sized envelopes. Also needed are stamps or donations for stamps.

Cards may be sent to P. O. Box 27, Floriston, Calif. 96111, or you can call Judy Barben, 587-4007 for pick up.

Sue For Damages In Auto Accident

Damages of $200,000 are being sought by Elba N. and Homer J. Raycraft as the result of a head-on traffic collision on Interstate 80 west of Truckee January 3, 1969.

Principal defendants in the action were listed as Christine and Norman Waneck. The Raycrafts' lawyer is J. Michael Brown of Sacramento.

NORTH TAHOE'S LOVELIEST - As Sierra snowflakes blanketed the North Tahoe region Friday, 14 young girls vied for the title of "Miss Sierra Snowflake" for 1970 at the Nevada Lodge. The girls presented themselves onstage in both ski outfits and formal dress for a wide-eyed panel of judges.

North Lake Tahoe Chamber Pot Shots

By BETTY LAYTON

It's two days after the finale of the Snoball and time to clean the garage, put away the Xmas decorations for another year, and burn the snowmobile entries you find there left over from last year. It's easy to get side-tracked to vacuum the white fur on the Samoyed, dust the rubber plant, and reflect on all the wonderful people who put together their time and talents to produce the "Miss Sierra Snowflake" contest. You wonder if the loyal friendships are still in tact, and whether you have given the proper recognition to everyone!

Sierra Boat Company came through to do a last minute patching job on a fiberglass slide that was going to be used in a winter scene for the girls in ski outfits but time ran out and the technicalities couldn't be worked out. We'll go on to dream of the slide and something different for next year. In fact, the chamber will host the committee chairmen to lunch to critique the whole ball and get ideas for next year.

Eileen Wilen has probably volunteered her services for each year's Snoball longer than anyone else. She has very capably served in all categories and corrected the statement in the program of the past two years that the Snoball in 1962 was moved the last minute from Nevada Lodge to the Olympic Village Hotel. She said that it has in the past nine years been held in the Nevada Lodge and that must be some kind of a record. It is because of a few devoted community citizens like Eileen, Maxine Olson, and others that make it possible for the event to continue!

Time to reflect that it is estimated that each year air pollution costs the nation over $12 billion (in the Northeast about $18 million a year to farmers alone), but the view of the lake today is without a trace of it. The automobile contributes 60 per cent of our air pollution so

Club Sponsors Nordic Ski Team Trials

The Lake Tahoe Ski Club will sponsor one of four Nordic ski meets January 24 and 25 to determine the selection of the Far West Ski Association's junior national Nordic ski team, which is scheduled to compete at Jackson Hole, Wyoming, in March.

On Saturday ski jumping events will commence at noon at Boreal Ridge using the 15 to 35 meter jumps. Sunday will see cross-country skiing at Boreal beginning at 10 a.m.

Coach Rich Rodarte, who is also a teacher at the Kings Beach School, said the 20 youngsters participating have been practicing since November for the meet. Ages of the skiers range from 11 to 16 years.

The Lake Tahoe Ski Club have provided the Nordic ski equipment for the young skiers, which included jumping and cross country skis.

perhaps the autos at Tahoe are inoperative today.

There are no national standards for other than automobile pollution, although industrial plants are increasing in number and airplanes are doubling (with each jet dumping 2- 1/2 tons of carbon dioxide pollutants into the atmosphere every ten minutes). The present pollution laws are too superficial and are seldom if ever enforced. Yet, a U.S. Forest Service study released in October shows that about 1.3 million trees in Southern California are dying from smog effects. The damage has increased four times in just one year. Other interesting statistics quote that driving an automobile 25 miles at moderate speed uses up more air than would be breathed by 7 million people during the same time. Would any area in its right mind want Los Angeles problems?

The chamber held their monthly meeting at the Squaw Valley Lodge the 15th and passed a resolution in favor of the school bond issue which will come before the voters next month. The increase in interest rate is essential as are the classrooms which the proper voting will insure. This is a growing community and one only has to look at the age level of residents to realize we don't have the senior citizens, social security majority in our area. We have the active, youthful residents bringing up children to enjoy the great advantages of the Tahoe area and it is essential to provide schools and classrooms for these children.

The chamber board reviewed their stand of September 15 on the Granite Chief Study and will seek to eliminate the proposed trans - Sierra highway linking lower Placer County via the high ridge route. They wish to eliminate the heavy logging trucks which use Highway 89 in the summer to the detriment of the entire tourist - oriented area. The chamber recommends that logs be transported to the Foresthill area, further benefitting Placer County.

Thursday, the 22nd, the Snowmobile Race Committee of the Tahoe Chamber and the Truckee-Donner Chamber will meet to finalize plans for the races at the Truckee-Tahoe Airport, February 7 and 8. Kings Castle will donate for our races an overall trophy to the winner with the most points in the modified class. It is predicted that many of the modified bombers will be trying out their machines at the joint - chambers races.

her snow skiing ability. We're all very proud of her as are her folks, Ione and Russ Roberts of Kings Beach. She has been employed by the Tahoe Boat Company.

For people who would like to try out the sport of skiing, this would be the week to do it. Numerous ski areas are loaning free equipment and providing free lifts for those wishing to try out the slopes and find out just what it is about skiing that has taken over the nation as the most popular winter sport. Remember, it's a family sport that all ages can enjoy. Try it.

The Far West Ski Association is again sponsoring the proficiency ski program. After a skier becomes confident and would like to be graded on the ability to turn and control his skis, tests are being conducted by members of the Far West Ski Instructors Association, so if you're interested check with the ski school of your choice and arrange for the test. Attractive pins are available through FWSA, Class A and B skiers qualify for No. 4, Class C and D No. 3, E and F for No. 2, and No. 1 pins are given to those in the expert class.

Requirements for No. 4 are to make a 180 degree turn, side step, herringbone, ski on the level, breaking speed, snow plow turns and traversing; No. 3 requirements are three linked stem turns, sideslipping, uphill christy, three linked stem christies, and free ski designated line; No. 2, three linked stem christies, six parallel christy turns, parallel stop christy, short radius turns, continuous descent; and No. 1, sharp parallel christies, wedyn on steep slope, sharp moguls, high speed parallel christies, and ski on unpacked snow or ice.

It is not necessary to belong to FWSA to take these tests. It's an excellent way to register advancement. Application blanks may be received by writing FWSA Proficiency Ski Program, 812 Howard St., San Francisco, Ca. 94103, or at any ski school desk.

The Truckee area now has a phone number for current road information, 587-3806. A recording is made by the Division of Highways about conditions for 395, 267, 28, 70, 89, 80 and 50. But please dial correctly; our number is very similar and we have received numerous calls at all hours, especially during storms.

Rain closed most resorts Friday, but later that night snow began falling to give skiers another chance to get on the slats, however it was heavy wet stuff. Donner Lake is rising so fast from melting snow that we may be using our training from the SCUBA classes at the YM in Reno before we figured; 'course Vi's unable to ski yet, using crutches to get around after tearing that leg muscle, but she can get into the pool and practice snorkle and tank use.

We were happy to learn that Caryn West, a member of the U. S. "B" team who skis for Sugar Bowl won the women's Class A race on Red Dog January 11, at Squaw's Birthday Slalom.

European ski spas are experiencing much the same weather we are; the downhill had to be cancelled at Kitzbuehl, Austria, because of poor conditions, however, two slaloms were run instead. The warm storms that are hitting us and Europe are hectic for skiers, but the East is still getting beautiful dry powder snow. Maybe this is the year for eastern skiing.

Twenty-three-year-old Betsy Glenn, a beautiful blonde from Dana Point, is reining over numerous activities this ski season, having been named Queen of National Ski Week. She has been teaching skiing in Colorado, is a member of the U. S. Demonstration Team for the 8th Interski at Aspen, has appeared in ski films, serves as fashion coordinator for Head Ski and Sports Wear, and models and promotes Bonnie Bell cosmetics. She will be visiting the major ski areas throughout the United States this season.

Boreal Ridge will operate a ski school for amputees under the direction of Bill Sim, ski school director there. Assisting him will be Jim Winthers, Amputee's co-founder, and Jim Graham, who is the only amputee certified instructor. Classes are free and are for all age groups. For more information or donations, write National Amputee Skiers Association, 3738 Walnut Avenue, Carmichael.

Plan Church Parley Friday

Local church leaders and teachers will discuss "Christian Education" at a regular monthly luncheon meeting January 23 at 9 a.m. in the Truckee home of Mrs. Carolyn Kramer.

All religious faiths are invited to attend to share and study education techniques, problems, and successes relating to the church, family, and the community.

Mrs. Robert Findley will serve as convenor and discussion leader for the inter-faith group.

Choir Practice Every Sunday

The United Methodist Church has started choir practices each Sunday following worship service at 12 noon for short sessions. Frequent evening practices are scheduled. Robert Findley is the director.

Governor Salutes The Fish, Game Centennial

Governor Ronald Reagan has formally inaugurated "California Fish and Game Centennial Year" by urging all Californians to rededicate themselves to the conservation of fish and wildlife resources.

The Governor appeared at the commission's January 9 meeting in Sacramento to read a proclamation designating 1970 as centennial year, and to receive Fishing License No. 1 from retiring Commission President James Y. Camp and the other four commissioners. The Governor noted that the California Fish Commission, or Board of Fish Commissioners, was created by the Legislature in 1870 and was the direct forerunner of today's Fish and Game Commission and Department of Fish and Game.

"The California Fish and Game Commission and the Department of Fish and Game have long been recognized as leaders in fish and wildlife research, protection, management and conservation," Governor Reagan noted in his proclamation. Pointing out that the fish and wildlife resources of California constitute a priceless part of our heritage as well as a vital part of our present environment, the Governor dedicated 1970 as: "... A year of recognition of a century of leadership in fish and wildlife conservation and a year for re-dedication of all of our citizens to the principles of conservation of our fish and wildlife resources through wise use, planning and scientific management and maintenance of the environment upon which these living resources depend for their existence and perpetuation."

The old Fish Commission set right to work at its assigned task - "to provide for the restoration and preservation of fish in the waters of this state" - and in 1871 imported the shad from New York for planting in the Sacramento River. The shad remains an important game fish today. The initial success was followed in 1870 by introduction of the striped bass, for years an important commercial species and still one of the state's top-ranking game fishes.

There also were some mistakes and failures in that first decade - most notably the introduction of the carp from Japan. The carp still thrives and competes seriously with more desirable game fishes in many of California's waters. The pike and muskellunge were imported, but did not survive. The brown, eastern brook and lake trout were successful and attractive additions.

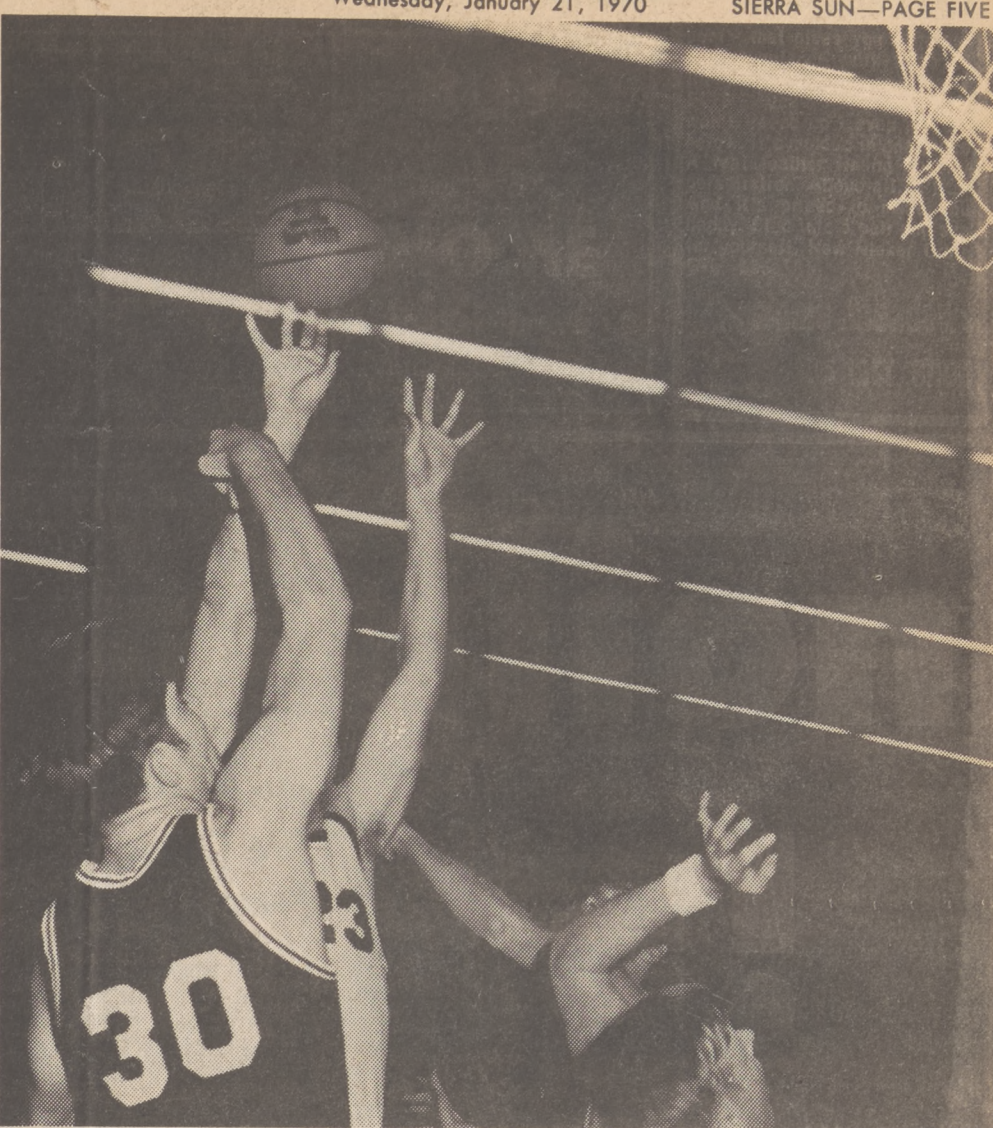

The commission was given jurisdiction over game as well as fish in 1879, and a bureau of patrol and law enforcement was established in 1883 to provide statewide enforcement of fish and game laws.

Placer School Counselors To View Film

An award winning film, "Journey Into Self," will be shown at a meeting of Placer County student counselors at Sierra College on Tuesday, January 20.

This documentary film was made by Dr. Carl Rogers and Dr. Richard Farson at the Western Behavioral Science Institute in La Jolla.

Counselors will have an opportunity to meet together during the session to discuss the film and other pertinent issues in counseling.

Sierra College In TV Project

Sierra College will be one of three college districts participating in a cooperative television series which will be aired on KCRA channel 3 in February, March and April.

The Los Rios, San Joaquin Delta, and Sierra College Districts have jointly produced the series which will be called: "Campus Discovery." Each of the three half hour programs will be concerned with aspects of junior college education which are unique and innovative approaches to this rapidly expanding segment of California Community Colleges.

The first in the series will be titled: "The New Student"

NEW SKI SCHOOL DIRECTOR AT BOREAL—Bill Sim, new ski director for Boreal Ridge, says the school will teach the popular American technique. Sim has worked with ski schools and junior racing programs at other resorts, and at June Mountain was school director for the past two winters. He was a member of the U.S. Demonstration Team in Aspen, Colorado, in 1968 and is a member of the Professional Ski Instructors of America and the Far West Ski Instructor's Association.

Chappie Asks Rock Festival 'Insurance'

SACRAMENTO—Assemblyman Gene Chappie, R-Cool, has introduced legislation (Assembly Bill 148), aimed at preventing large gatherings of people, i.e., rock festivals, in California unless the promoters of such events provide a bond to cover all damage to property and persons.

Under the measure, the board of supervisors of the counties of California will have the option of adopting an ordinance requiring a bond be put up by promoters, up to $5 million. If the promoters fail to comply with the ordinance they would be guilty of a felony.

West Shore Notes

By ELLEN ATTARDI
Bill Connors, member of the governing board of the Tahoe-Truckee Unified School District, will present the bond facts on the upcoming school bond election at a meeting of the Tahoe Lake School this Wednesday, January 21, to be held at the Tahoe Lake School at 8:00 p.m. Also on hand to answer questions about the election, which will be held Tuesday, February 24, will be Jack Houlgate, a member of the Citizens Committee to Vote Yes on the School Bond.
Tahoe Lake PTA president Dorothy Cowan urges all citizens to attend this meeting to acquaint themselves with the facts surround and the need for a bond for school building.

A very active group is the Tahoe City Womens' Club who contributes much to the community and to other outside worthwhile projects. Club officers for the 1969-70 season are Marge Thomasberg, Isabel Stockland, Dorothea Swanson, Evelyn Surprise and Rose Sergi. The club is affiliated with the Sutter District of Federated Womens' Clubs.

Among the many projects they have completed recently are donation of two Penny Pine plantations to the United States Forest Service (each plantation consists of 6,800 seedlings); 40 hours of service by safety chairman to the local water safety program of the American Red Cross and the purchase of badges for graduates of the safety program; a contribution to the Sutter District art fund and the entering of Tahoe-Truckee High School senior Diane Ericson in the national Hallmark art contest; 100 per cent membership donations to CARE; a contribution to the local Hot Line project; a donation of 26 boxes of clothing to the Nevada Veterans' Hospital; the establishment of a $500 college scholarship for a Tahoe-Truckee High School student; a contribution of $100 for Indian nurses; aid scholarship; a contribution to the training fund for the junior national ski meet program; a contribution to the Christmas party for local children which is coordinated by the Tahoe City Rotary Club; a truck load of clothing for the Pyramid Indians; the contribution of a large food box and turkey for a local needy family at Christmas.

Of special pride to the club was the Woman of the Year award which was presented to member Isabel Brucklacher by the Greater North Lake Tahoe Chamber of Commerce last year for her club work. Mrs. Brucklacher is also a past president of the Tahoe City Womens' Club.

The club has had several interesting speakers at their business meetings over the past several months and among these are Ken Legg, who spoke to the group on conservation; Placer County Supervisor Bill Briner, who talked on Tahoe pollution problems; Mrs. Peggy Wheat, who discussed the history and present day conditions of the Platte Indians; and Harry Duane of South Lake Tahoe, who spoke on the formation of a Lake Tahoe county.

Mary Beth Harder, daughter of the Don Harders of Constock Acres, noted her seventh birthday January 19 and celebrated with a party for young friends given at her home.

Enjoying a great week at Sun Valley are Osvaldo and Eddy Ancinas of Alpine Meadows. They are part of a large group participating in the fifth reunion of the Sun Valley Ski Club. Skiing, of course, is the major attraction of the week-long event but other scheduled activities include cocktail and dinner parties and showings of Hollywood movies which were made in Sun Valley. The week will be climaxed at a Lowell Thomas toastmastered dinner Friday evening.

Friday, January 23, will "Nordic Night" for members and friends of the Lake Tahoe Ski Club when they meet at the Homewood Resort for an evening of dinner, movies, prizes and night skiing.

A Scandinavian buffet will be served starting at 6:30 p.m. with the happy hour commencing at 5:30 p.m. In charge of arrangements is Jean Scott who has announced that the donation of $3.50 per person ($2.50 for seniors) will include the night skiing. Those wishing to attend are advised to RSVP Mrs. Scott at 583-3993.

Happy birthday to Chuck Roberts of Tahoe City who celebrated his sixteenth birthday January 14.

Barbara Spitsen was hostess to a group of friends at a bridge luncheon at her Tahoe City home last Thursday and winning playing honors of the day were Leah Hopkins and Ima Lukke.

San Francisco visitors for several days last week were Jack and Betty Starratt of Lake Terrace.

Mrs. Larry Lindsey was hostess to the TST's at a dinner party held at her Agate Bay home last Thursday evening.

A festive Mardi Gras dinner will be hosted by the Ladies' Guild of the Corpus Christi Church February 8 and the dinner will be held at the Episcopal Hall of the St. Nicholas Church.

President Pat Harder has announced that the following members will serve on the arrangements committee: Mary Ann Connors and Lorraine Wood, general chairmen; Dolores Sheehan, Julie Fenley, Ronnie Keating, Anita Ormsby, Donna Ernsdorf and Father Ronan Brennan.

Hawley Smith Named Trimont Vice President

Hawley D. Smith, 45, has been named vice president of Trimont Land Company, it was announced last week by company president Ronald C. Anderson.

Trimont is a wholly owned subsidiary of Fibreboard Corporation, a San Francisco based packaging and forest products manufacturer. Trimont will acquire portions of Fibreboard's extensive land resources for development, including a residential-recreation complex on a 25,000-acre site in the North Lake Tahoe area.

Smith came to Trimont from Cabot, Cabot & Forbes, where he was Northern California marketing and sales manager.

For eight years prior to joining Cabot, Cabot & Forbes, he owned and operated a real estate company in Palo Alto, specializing in syndication, development, commercial-industrial brokerage, management and leasing.

Smith was also one of the developers of Frontier Village, a children's amusement park

GRADUATING GIRLS - The Girl's League at Tahoe-Truckee High School hosted a graduation tea for mothers and daughters Monday as an informal substitute for formal graduation ceremonies.

Thirty-five senior boys and girls will compete their 13 years of public education January 23.

County Shakes Commissions

The county commissions and committees for which members are paid were shaken up somewhat by the board of supervisors Tuesday.

The supervisors added one body to the list eligible for monthly per diems - the juvenile justice commission. Two others, recreation and airport, were deleted from the list of per diem payments.

The county has had a mixed policy toward per diems with members of eight committees receiving such payments in the past but members of six others getting no pay.

The policy remained mixed after Tuesday's actions, but the mix was changed somewhat.

The supervisors allowed per diem payments for all committees required by law plus those they felt were formed by the board to work at its direction as a function of county government.

An attempt was made to put in the non-pay category those groups whose members belong to that particular activity for one reason or another. The non-pay list includes, besides airport and recreation, the hospital advisory committee, abandoned vehicles committee, mental health advisory committee and fish and game commission.

The question of which committee members should be paid the standard $15 per monthly meeting was raised when the landmarks commission asked to be added to the per diem list recently.

As it stands now, per diems will be paid to members of these groups required by law: planning commission, Local Agency Formation Commission, welfare advisory commission, emergency medical care committee and juvenile justice commission.

In addition, the personnel commission was placed on the pay list by a 4-1 vote, Supervisor Ralph Buchanan in the negative. The executive committee of Overall Economic Development Plan was put on the pay list by a 3-2 vote, Supervisors William Thomas and William Curran in the negative. The groups not included on the pay sheet did receive one consolation. Hereafter, members of every county commission will be entitled to be reimbursed for mileage expenses to and from meetings at the county rate of 10 cents a mile.

The mileage policy will extend to two temporary groups which are studying the Land Conservation Act and county insurance. Also included is the new pollution control committee.

Winners Announced In Big Truckee-Donner Snow Pool

Gale Mackey of Marysville was the grand winner of the big "Welcome Winter" snow pool conducted by the Truckee-Donner Chamber of Commerce. Actual snowfall recorded between Jan. 1 and Dec. 31, 1969, at the Central Sierra Snow Lab at Donner Summit was 45 feet, 10 and two-tenths inches. The winning estimate, made prior to Dec. 15, was 45 feet, three inches.

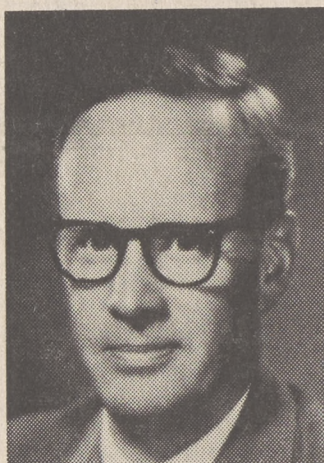

First prize included a season ski pass to the four summit ski areas - Donner Ski Area, Soda Springs, Sugar Bowl, and Boreal Ridge - and gift certificates from Sierra House, Coffee And, Wagon Train, Donner Lake Lodge, Manzo's, Vail's Phillips 66, Lamietti's, and Tourist Liquor.

Second prize went to Sarah Smit of Modesto who won certificates from Cozy Motel, Truckee Airport Services, and Walker's Toggery.

Donner Ski Shop awarded third prize to Paul Smith of Modesto. Zorich Ski Shop presented fourth prize to Brian McGoldrick of Millbrae, and fifth prize, a certificate from Cabanas, went to Stacey Smith of Modesto.

Jay Price was chairman of the snow pool committee for the chamber of commerce.

HAWLEY D. SMITH

Sierra Features Famous Actor

Vincent Price, motion picture, television and theater actor, author, and art authority will appear at a special forum to be held at Sierra College on Monday, January 26 at 8 p.m. in the gym. Price has appeared in over 100 motion pictures, more than 500 major television shows, and radio programs in the thousands. His reputation in the field of art and his own personal collection led to his appointment as art consultant to Sears, Roebuck and Company, as well as his weekly column in the Sunday Chicago Tribune.

Price's Sierra College lecture will deal with "Art in Contemporary America," a subject in which he excels. His initial aim in life was to become a teacher and collector of art and majored in that subject at Yale University. While working on his master's degree at London University he turned to the theater where he attained success. In the field of art he has received an honorary doctorate from the California College of Arts and Crafts and an LL.D. from Ohio Wesleyan University.

Counties Earn License Funds

California's cities and counties have shared $19,242,629 in the first apportionment of motor vehicle license fees for Fiscal Year 1969-70, State Controller Houston I. Flournoy reported last week.

Covering the six-month period ending last November 30, the money was divided evenly between cities and counties with distribution among individual cities and counties proportionate to population. The allocation represented slightly over 63 cents for each city resident, and almost 50 cents for each county resident, Flournoy said. This was the first of three apportionments to be made during the 1969-70 fiscal year, the Controller said. Apportionments next April and June will be larger since the bulk of the fees are collected during January and February of each year.

The State excise tax at the rate of $2 per $100 of market value takes the place of local property tax on motor vehicles. The money is returned to local governments except for that portion withheld to cover administrative costs.

As a result of action by the 1969 Legislature to implement a constitutional amendment approved by the voters in November 1968, this allocation may be used for local purposes by the cities and counties. Allocations prior to that of June 1969 were used by the cities and counties for State purposes.

Placer County's share of this initial 1969-70 apportionment was $35,642.41 and Nevada County's was $10,366.04.

County To Look At Incline Race Site

Washoe County Manager C. B. Kinnison reported Monday that he, Public Works Director George Oshima and other concerned county personnel will be at Incline this week to make an on-the-spot evaluation of the request of King's Castle Hotel and Casino to conduct its $50,000 Snowmobile Grand Prix Feb. 25 to March 1.

Kinnison said Washoe County commissioners at their last meeting requested county personnel to find out more facts and report back to their next meeting, Monday, Jan. 26.

"I think the whole problem is bringing such a large event into a residential district," Kinnison said.

At the last meeting Kinnison and Sheriff C. W. Young reported they had received protests from property owners, Kinnison had also received a letter from George A. Binney, president of the North Shore Property Owners Association.

Monday Norm Johnson, public relations spokesman for Kings Castle and race chairman, expressed surprise at the objections.

"We've been in constant contact with people in the area, with Wally White of Incline Village General Improvement District and with the commission and have complied with all their requests," Johnson said.

Johnson added that Kings Castle is inserting drains to take care of the water that has accumulated inside the track. He also pointed out that the water inside the arena is not stagnant water but fresh rain water.

In addition, Johnson noted that Kings Castle did not dig a hole for the racing arena. We brought in dirt from another area to build up the walls, he said. After the race is over the dirt will be removed.

Johnson reported that steps are even being taken to alleviate traffic congestion and other problems which could arise. We have several large parking areas designated for those attending the race. We will run a shuttle bus to and from the parking area to prevent traffic tie-ups.

He also added that the snowmobile competition is a great promotion for Lake Tahoe. It will have some of the best coverage ever given an event in this area. There will be mass media representatives from all over the United States, London and Japan and all three major television networks will provide coverage of the event. One network is even planning a 1 1/2 hour special on the race, Johnson concluded.

Binney's letter to Kinnison was written at the request of the North Shore Property Owners Association Board of Directors "to make inquiries" about the proposed snowmobile races. It requests specifically explanations of arrangements for automobile parking, traffic, fire and noise control.

The letter alleges that the racing oval was made by "bulldozing the soil and raised embankments over 20 feet high which has created a depression in which stagnant water was collected."

It also states that belief that an agreement made Dec. 11 with the Incline Village General Improvement District which requires "there be no alteration of this (VGID) property" has been violated.

W. W. White, IVGID director, said Monday that there has been no violation and he has written both Kinnison and Binney to that effect.

"Our agreement with Kings Castle is that there is to be no construction of any kind on district property and during the time of the races, district property adjacent to Third Creek is to be protected against trespassers and is not to be used for any parking," White said in his letter.

Binney's letter concludes with the request that the various matters indicated in the letter "be fully investigated before any action is taken which will result in the granting of a permit."

The letter also requests the North Shore Property Owners Association "be advised of the terms and conditions under which a permit would be considered so that we may have the opportunity to review the matter and present the considerations that some of the residents of this area have concerning this event."

Kinnison speaking at the last commissioner's meeting noted that some policy decision is required by the commission because residents are asking that they be consulted on this and all lake.

'Forget Density'

Don Steinmeyer, vice president of Tahoe Sierra Development Corp., in clarifying his position on the Nevada Tahoe master plan this week, maintains that density isn't a measure of good development.

Steinmeyer, whose company is developer of Mountain Shadows at Incline, had appeared and spoken at a public hearing on the proposed master plan for the Nevada portion of the Lake Tahoe Basin. He is spokesman for multiple unit developers in the Washoe County portion of the basin.

"Forget about density and start talking about open space, cuts and fills, natural ecology and the things that are important."

"That's what's going to save the lake."

"You can destroy as much land with five units per acre as you can with 100 units per acre."

"What we are saying is that we've asked them to consider other perimeters other than density as a measure of what can be done to Lake Tahoe without hurting."

In a letter to Raymond M. Smith, Nevada Tahoe Regional Planning Agency (NTRPA) planning consultant, which was sent out following the hearing, Steinmeyer wrote:

"It is our opinion that the density changes proposed are illegal in that they amount to rezoning. To this end no notice has been given to R-3 property owners and, therefore, no opportunity for them to be heard has been given by any agency responsible for such rezoning."

Steinmeyer said yesterday the NTRPA has nowhere in the law been asked to rezone, which in fact, he stated, is being proposed.

"The agency has been asked to develop controls to save Lake Tahoe. We're 100 per cent behind any move for such controls. We feel they should be established right away. This is the real job for the agency to do. It should establish these good controls but so far it has refused to," Steinmeyer said.

"The agency has done no solid research on population holding capacity. Any action taken in this matter is based on opinion, not facts," he said.

Alternate Plan
"Density, expressed in units per acre, is a rotten parameter to hang their hat on," he added, referring to his letter which set forth guidelines, in place of density limits, for controlling Tahoe land use and development.

development.

Proposed guidelines:

- Common area and open space must constitute at least 50 per cent of the land plan.

- Cuts and fills must not exceed eight feet or be suitably rip-rapped or revegetated.

- Road grades must be held to a minimum and should not exceed 10 per cent.

- Natural ecology and grade should be preserved or replaced in at least 50 per cent of the open area.

- Additional key points should include areas for snow storage drainage provisions and other pertinent detail.

Steinmeyer noted that Tahoe's Placer County had provisions which permitted higher densities if the plan met all county conditions.

"This encourages good planning, instead of blindly allowing all the units in a row, like barracks," he said.

"We therefore think the important thing is controlled land use, not density limits. We've seen one unit spoil a whole area. But it's possible, with good planning, to put 50 units on an acre without spoiling it," Steinmeyer said.

Speaking for the multiple developers, Steinmeyer said, "Don't tell us density. Tell us land use and we'll draw plans that meet the ecological requirements of the area."

"All developers are not bad, but we all want to stop bad development," he concluded.

Regular Meeting
The regional plan will be discussed Jan. 21, at the regular meeting of the NTRPA.

Consultant Smith said his 130-page narrative documents to go with his maps will be completed by the end of next week and be reviewed at a final public hearing Feb. 12.

Nevada law calls for the adoption of the regional master plan for the Nevada side of the lake by Feb. 19, 1970.

The first meeting of the Nevada-California agency as a basinwide unit is expected in March.

NEW SHRINE OFFICERS - Many dignitaries and out of town guests attended the installation dinner Friday of the El-Ta-Ho Shrine Club at Crystal Bay Club. Ernest McKenzie, center, potentate of Kerak Temple of the Shrine, was installing officer. Shown with him are new officers Gerry Eden, treasurer; Ed Spears, vice president; Jim Warrington, president, and Paul Paxton, secretary.

COMMEDED - Outgoing president Bill Zibig of El-Ta-Ho Shrine Club, right, is presented a certificate of commendation from Potentate Ernest McKenzie of Kerak Temple of the Shrine. The certificate lauded and thanked Zibig for many accomplishments during his term of office. Zibig vowed it should have gone to his wife who had to "hold down the fort and take care of the business" while the outgoing president went about the business of being club president. Award was given during installation last Friday at Crystal Bay Club.

Cougars, Trojans Win Races

Don Follansbee's Trojans and Ed and Bert Jensen's Cougars won the two Lugi League ski races Sunday at Ski Incline. The Trojans defeated Larry Borino's Devils by a score of 126-108 in the first race. Cougars took 122-91, in the second race.

This puts the Cougars in first place in league standings with a two wins, no losses. The Trojans and Rams are tied for second place with one win and one loss each. Fourth place Devils record no wins and two losses.

High scorers for the Trojans were Kenny Poochachoff, Debra Hancock, Chris Kookhoff, Carol Rogers and Sandi Smoley. Devils high scorers were Gail Michael, Peter Leonard, Larry Borino, Thomas Dusty, Trembley and Jean Kuckhoff.

Cougar high scorers were Ed Gurney, Vickie Lindley, Kim Gorman, Don Steinmeyer. Top scorers for the Rams were Monty Calvert, Bob Badertscher, Don Gilfillan and Andrea Phillips.

Kenny Poochachoff took the lead in the league's top ten finishers with the time of 36.9. Others, in order, were: Ed Gurney, 38.8; Monty Calvert, 39.9; Bob Badertscher, 42.6; Gail Michael, 44.2; Vickie Lindley, 44.4; Chris Kookhoff, 45.0; Carol Rogers, 46.2; Kim Gorman, 48.0; Don Steinmeyer, 48.1.

Meeting Set

Next meeting for Soroptimist Club of North Lake Tahoe will be a dinner and program meeting Tuesday, Jan. 27.

The meeting will be held at Crystal Bay Club with dinner scheduled for 7:30 p.m.

What makes a snowmobile great?

Polaris Knows!

Say it in one word. Performance. A get-up-and-go snowmobile that turns any stretch of snow into an open highway. One word, but a dozen design refinements in the '70 Polaris make it happen. Like powerful twin-cylinder Star engines, new Drift-Skipper suspension, Polartone muffler, and dependable electric start.

These are just a few of the pace-setting innovations in the 1970 Polaris. Take a test drive. You won't risk anything but temptation.

MISS CONGENIALITY - Jo Burris, 17-year-old daughter of Woody and Ruth Burris of Incline, was elected by fellow contestants Friday as "Miss Congeniality" during the "Miss Sierra Snowflake" queen contest. She is shown getting a kiss from Rose Marie Mandeville of Kings Beach, member of the Soroptimist Club which sponsored Miss Burris' entry in the queen contest. The contest was held before a capacity crowd at Nevada Lodge Topaz Room. The radiant, "all-around gal" Jo is a senior student at Earl Wooster High School. A sometime model she likes to swim, snow and water ski, cook and sew. She is a sister of Georgia Burris who was "Miss Sierra Snowflake" of 1967. Her father, Woody, has Woody's Chevron Station at Southwood and Tahoe Boulevard. Her mother is manager of Joseph Magnin's at Crystal Bay. Television and radio personality Danny Marvin, master of ceremonies, presented the award before naming Lynn Roberts, Queen and Lynn Aro of Homewood and Kristina St. George of Squaw Valley as first and second runnersup respectively. Betty Layton, manager of the sponsoring Greater North Lake Tahoe Chamber of Commerce said the "Congeniality" award was the idea of the contestants themselves.

PLEASE DON'T RING THE BELL! - Volunteer firemen donned their "go to meetin'" clothes and gathered their wives to attend an installation dinner last Friday at Crystal Bay Club, each prayerfully hoping the fire bell would remain silent. It did! As a result, the new officers of the North Lake Tahoe Fire Protection District Volunteers were duly installed by Fire Chief Jack Kissinger. Officers from left, seated, are, outgoing President David Graham, new President Ron Cromwell and Ed Black, trustee; standing, Jack Johannes, vice president; Skip Isensee, sergeant at arms; and Darryl Gunther, Merv Hansen and Al Humphrey, trustees. -Sun Photo

Groups To Outline Basin Plans

A joint statement will be issued at a meeting Jan. 26 by presidents of the League to Save Lake Tahoe and Lake Tahoe Area Council, concerning a cooperative effort and plan of operation for 1970 for the two groups.

The meeting, open the public, will be in Room 207 at Hotel Sahara-Tahoe, with a no-host social hour beginning at 6:30 p.m. and dinner at 7:30 p.m.

The council will have a business session, with election of officers and committee reports. Dinner will cost $6 per person. Advance reservations are necessary and can be made with the council at Box 3475, South Lake Tahoe.

The proposed cooperative effort entails both organizations retaining full time executive directors who would reside in Tahoe Basin.

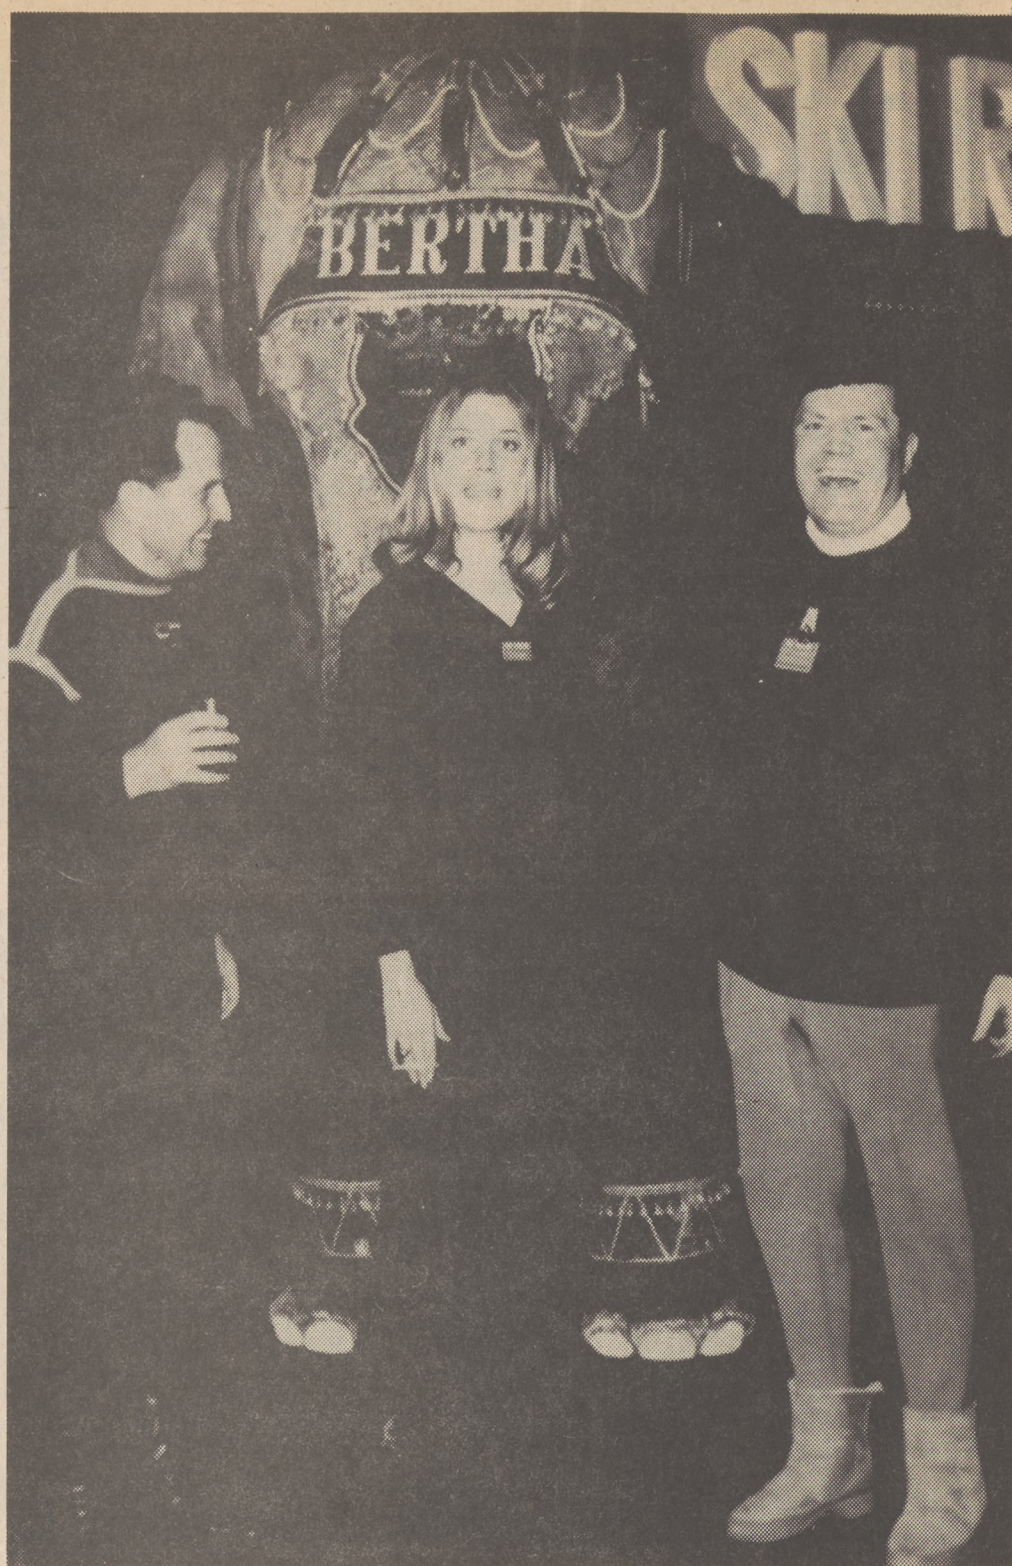

The council program would be supplemented by fund support from the League to Save Lake Tahoe Charitable Trust of up to $15,000, while the league program would be funded by membership subscriptions to the League to Save Lake Tahoe.

The two organizations are currently working on a joint venture to get every property owner in the basin as a member of either of the organizations, to get a political base from which to work and be heard on conservation matters.

Women's Club Will Install

Woman's Club of North Tahoe will hold an election and installation meeting Monday, Jan. 26.

It will be held in the California Room at Cal Neva Lodge. Social hour is scheduled for 11:30 a.m. with luncheon to be served at 12:30.

THEY DO GET AROUND - Luggie Foeger, director of Ski Incline, and John Szlavik, director of recreation facilities for Incline Village, Inc., do get around but they didn't get around the Sparks Nugget performing elephant, Bertha last week. They were attending a cocktail party and dinner at the Nugget to entertain some 250 travel agents from throughout the United States and several foreign countries. The other guest whom Bertha stopped cold preferred to remain nameless. The travel agents enjoyed Incline-Crystal Bay area hospitality the following day for skiing, parties and sightseeing before terminating their three-day stay.

INDY WINNER - Rodger Ward, who retired from active racing competition following the 1966 Indy "500" has officially joined the field for the $50,000 Kings Castle Snowmobile Grand Prix. The two-time winner at Indianapolis will handle one of Mickey Rupp's racers in the Feb. 25 - March 1 event.

Rodger Ward To Enter Snowmobile Grand Prix

Rodger Ward, one of the all-time racing immortals and winner of two Indianapolis 500-Mile races and two National Championship titles, has officially entered the $50,000 Kings Castle Snowmobile Grand Prix, Nate Jacobson, president of the hotel-casino, announced.

"I'm extremely delighted to be able to make this announcement about Ward entering our race," Jacobson said. "With men such as Rodger competing, our race becomes far more important and also brings an image that has long been needed in the fastest growing sport in the country."

Ward announced his retirement from active competition at the annual Victory Dinner following the 1966 Indianapolis event. However, once a racer, always a racer, and Ward is no exception.

"I still keep my fingers in racing by selecting a few events each year to compete in," Ward said. "The Kings Castle race will be one of two major events I'll be entering this year. The other will be the annual Mint '400' Off-Road race in Las Vegas."

Ward will be driving for Mickey Rupp, another well-known name in racing, who manufactures a high-speed snowmobile. The Rupp factory has entered seven drivers in the race scheduled for Feb. 26 through March 1. Ward becomes the eighth member of that team.

During his long career, he won over a half-million dollars in prize money alone at the Indy oval, not counting the numerous victories scored on tracks nationwide.

During his long career, he won over a half-million dollars in prize money alone at the Indy oval, not counting the numerous victories scored on tracks nationwide.

Ward drove in 14 consecutive Indianapolis races and in 15 total. He won the coveted trophy in 1959 and 1962, finished second in 1960 and 1964, third in 1961 and fourth in 1963. One of the most versatile race drivers to ever steer a high-powered racing car, he has competed in championship cars, stock cars, midgets, sprints and sports cars and established himself as a constant threat to be first to reach victory lane, Jacobson noted. Now, it's snowmobile racing for the curly-headed driver who earned the nickname "Ambassador of Auto Racing" due to the great love he has for the sport.

Restaurant Is Purchased

Peter Apostolos has announced the purchase of the Christmas Tree restaurant on Mt. Rose Highway for nearly a half million dollars. Plans for expansion were revealed.

Apostolos has operated the restaurant for the last 10 months during which time a rathskeller, a Mistletoe Terrace and musical entertainment has been added. The purchase includes 12 acres of property.

The Christmas Tree was built in 1948 by John Ross and subsequently sold to Guy Michael. Michael rebuilt the restaurant after it burned to the ground in May 1964. It was then sold to a group of Lake Tahoe businessmen headed by Al Kuckoff. The property was leased to a San Francisco food and beverage company last year.

Apostolos said plans include development of a complex with a hotel - motel, shops, condominiums and recreational facilities.

Annexation Sought

Trustees of the Incline Village General Improvement District at a meeting this month deferred action on a petition to annex 14 acres of lakefront property belonging to the Alfred E. Heller family of San Francisco.

W. W. White, IVGID manager, said the proposal would have to go before the Washoe County Commissioners also.

Trustees accepted an audit showing an $8,500 loss in sewer and water operations as of June 30, 1969. The reported that the district's general fund is still solvent in spite of the maintenance loss because of tax revenues and connection fees collected.

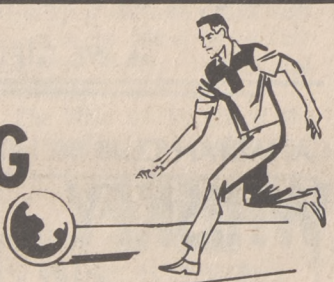

White noted, however, that future upkeep and supply will depend on the monthly fees for services. The IVGID has asked the Nevada Public Service Commission for a rate increase which would help make up the deficit.

Lake Echoes

By BETHEL

Bridging the generation gap is downright funny at times! The old days when one became somewhat "seedy," didn't keep up with the times and just didn't care in general, the expression was that "so-and-so" had just gone to pot!

Well, in this era we have found that if we should say another has gone to pot... we'd be investigated. We'd best keep up with the times today and adjust!

Joy and Ray Plunkett and children, Michael, Laurie, Suzanne and Kristie, of Incline have returned home after a three weeks vacation in Hawaii. Ray returned home a few days ahead of the family to reopen the Crystal Bay Club.

Don't forget the annual buck stew to be held at the Elks Club at Kings Beach on Jan. 24, which is sponsored by the Lake Tahoe Veterans of Foreign Wars Post 7077 and its Auxiliary.

Buck for the stew will be furnished by Edwin Liddle of Kings Beach and Noble Murray of Carson City - both past post commanders.

As this is a benefit a donation of $1.50 per person will be asked. Further information and reservations may be had by phoning James Farrell, 546-3415, VFW Commander, or Kay Wing, 546-2379, auxiliary president.

Irene Kaiser of Incline Village welcomed her daughter, Donna, home from the East for the holidays.

Just as soon as Warren Nelson's broken heel heals, wife, Pat, is taking up snowmobiling! He was having fun on son, Greg's machine when an accident occurred breaking his foot. However, cast or no cast, he is still out on the slopes with the machine.

Gail, a freshman at Santa Clara, was home for the holidays with the family.

Russ Farley is back home at Incline Beach after an extended trip to the east coast.

Ruby Weaver is now at home in Newport Beach in a beautiful new studio apartment. Ruby plans to return with summer weather to Tahoe. She was active in civic affairs and the Women's Club while residing at Incline Village.

Marie and A.R. (Red) Gangi, Jr. of Incline Village celebrated the holidays with relatives, friends and neighbors who all enjoyed the huge 18' Christmas tree and outdoor lights. Decorations had the assistance of Laura Cryser of Santa Rosa, a school friend of the Gangi's son, Tony who attends Cal Poly.

Bob Gangi of Walnut Creek joined the family as their houseguest for several days. He is a teacher at the Del Valle High in Walnut Creek.

The Dick Poulsens spent Christmas Eve - cocktails, dinner and midnight mass - with the Gangis.

Congratulations to Marie and Red Gangi on their 22nd wedding anniversary. Coming from San Jose were the Wm. Taylors to help them celebrate the occasion at dinner and the Glen Cambell show at the South Shore Room of Harrah's.

Open house at the Gangi Incline Village home on the 27th was a great occasion for guests: Mr. and Mrs. W. Taylor and family of San Jose, Dr. and Mrs. G. Sunday and family of Sacramento, Dr. and Mrs. W. Wolum and family of Sacramento, Myrtle and Don Facciola and daughter of Incline, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Baron and family of San Jose, Mr. and Mrs. John Davis of Atherton, Dr. and Mrs. S. Daby and family of Sacramento, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Ruby and family of Incline, Gary Norton, Mr. and Mrs. Dick Poulsen and family of Incline, Bob Gangi of Walnut Creek, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Mariani and Mr. and Mrs. T. Golman and Mr. and Mrs. Don Cervelli and family all of San Jose and Brian Leae, Bob Amaya, Gary Taylor, Carol Sunday, John Eliff, Laura Cryser who were guests of son, Tony.

Back at Tahoe after an absence of several years is Jean Jacobs, for many years a Tahoe Vista summer resident with her family. However, she recently moved back to Tahoe and is with Cal Neva Lodge.

John Corbin of Kings Beach has been hospitalized in Sacramento where he underwent surgery. Wife, Dorothy, expects to bring him home soon for recuperation.

Announcement has been received by friends that Bill Bates former Tahoe Vista resident for many years, and Helen Riolo of Sacramento and a summer Tahoe Vista resident, were married recently. They are making their home in Sacramento.

After hearing the story of "Foxie" who lives up to his name - we can't think a dog's life is so bad. Foxie started life as an ordinary dog should. However, he discovered the grass is greener and became a social nomad. One day luck was with him and he was adopted, groomed, outfitted with proper travel equipment and embarked on a trip to New York and all points east - thus becoming the best traveled dog at Incline.

He is at home again with his new mistress but up to his old tricks - red ribboned and well groomed, he still visits his old haunts - but returns home. After all he won't miss a trip or a trick!

Wilma and Tom Lucas of Folsom were guests of Don and Nell Barkhurst at Crystal Bay last week.

Dale Fuson, former North Shore resident and graduate of Tahoe Truckee High School has been promoted to a new position with Crocker National Bank at the Greenbrae Lane Branch in Citrus Heights. Dale and his wife, Betty, have three sons, two are a set of twins.

Laura Strohm of Crystal

Bay has returned to San Francisco for a couple of months. Patrons of Magnins will miss her cheerful smile and friendliness - hurry back, Laura.

A postcard mailed in Australia Nov. 25 and a letter from La Quinta mailed Dec. 26 were received the same day by Bethel in Reno from Don Cadette, Tahoe Vista summer resident.

Don spent a month in Australia. He arrived for the christening of his godchild, Brooke Costello, daughter of Denise and Terry Costello of Kinsington. After a visit with the Costellos, he went to Canberra, the capitol of Australia (designed by an American architect, Burley Griffin, who copied the city after Washington, D. C.), Melbourne, then to the beaches, several trips to the bush country, and says, Don, the name fits the country! Only a week of rain marred his trip and in Sydney he walked the entire area seeing everything. His one disappointment was not to have contacted Laura Strohm's family - Laura is at Crystal Bay and her son lives in Australia.

Snow Races Start At Elko

The Elko County Snowmobile Races, Nevada's first major snowmobile event, will be held January 24-25 at a brand-new race track at Tent Mountain between Elko and Wells.

Co-sponsors of the event are the Wells Snowmobile Club and the Elko Snoggoers, whose members joined forces to make a successful bid to hold the Western Snowmobile Association Intermediate Championships in Elko County.

Preparation for the races has been a cooperative effort between the two communities. After selecting a site at the base of 10,000-foot Tent Mountain in Starr Valley, snowmobilers raised funds, secured the help of the state highway department for survey work, and set about building the race facilities.

Nuclear Tools Needed 'Watchdogs' Diversify Civil Rights Battle To Develop Resources

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) - The United States will face critical fuel and mineral shortages by the turn of the century unless it backs development of underground nuclear explosion techniques to unlock such resources, a petroleum expert states.

"What appears to be needed is the formulation of a national policy which recognizes the contribution that can be made by underground nuclear engineering in the development of natural resources," said Sam Smith, director of exploration for the El Paso Natural Gas Co.

Smith presented a paper at an American Nuclear Society conference reviewing progress in the federal Plowshare program - the 12 year, $110-million effort to develop peaceful applications of nuclear explosions.

"This policy support should be sufficient to sustain a research and development program while government and industry resolve their technical and practical problems," he said.

By the turn of the century, he said demand for iron is expected to increase 175 per cent and zinc 375 per cent. Known natural gas reserves are not sufficient to meet U.S. needs projected for 1990, Smith added.

"Underground nuclear engineering is theoretically capable of helping satisfy such future resource needs," he said, but "it is at the policy level that government response to industry's needs is disappointing."

The government, he said, insists that industry bear 80 per cent of the cost of developing better nuclear devices for underground mineral production.

And, he added, regulations of the Atomic Energy Commission for use of such devices make their utilization even more difficult.

Smith said the AEC must make more of its nuclear science information available to industry and simplify its controls if the benefits of peaceful nuclear explosives are to be realized.

Proposed legislation to form a 15-member commission to examine the potential environmental effects of Plowshare could result in even "more numerous and cumbersome" governmental red tape, he said.

WASHINGTON (AP) - After a fast ride as the government's chief and most visible desegregation agent in the South, the Office for Civil Rights is aiming for a new and more diversified role in the fight against discrimination in schools.

In recent years the agency, a part of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare, played a key role in desegregation by knocking schools in the pocketbooks for civil rights infractions.

Now that the federal courts have assumed the major responsibility for ending southern school segregation, officials in the civil rights office hope to take over as monitors of the courts' orders.

They also want to move against more subtle practices such as the firing of black teachers, the closing of Negro schools, the use of intelligence testing for pupil placement and the explosive growth of all-white private academies.

In addition, the HEW civil rights watchdogs talk of intensified excursions into the North and West against racial discrimination in colleges, de facto school segregation in big cities and unequal school treatment for Mexican-Americans.

"These are all questions that were overlooked in the rush to get kids out of all-black schools in the South," said one civil rights office official. "We're going to go after them now."

HEW's civil rights fortunes began changing in mid-1969. First the Nixon administration decreed government court litigation rather than termination of HEW aid was the more humane, if perhaps slower, way of ending southern school segregation.

Then a federal circuit court crimped HEW's termination procedures with the result that no districts have lost any federal aid since last July.

Finally, the Supreme Court handed down its integrate "at once" order causing a flurry of new litigation in the South.

Moreover, HEW is running out of places to wring desegregation plans with the threat of aid termination. Less than 300 of approximately 4,500 southern districts are still fair game. The remainder either have submitted acceptable plans or have been lost from jurisdiction by coming under court order.

As a result, the HEW civil rights compliance lawyer is no longer the chief villain to southerners. That role is now assigned to federal judges and the HEW education specialists who fashion the controversial court orders for speedy desegregation. The way HEW's civil rights chief Leon E. Panetta sees it, his office will become a quasi-arm of the federal courts to insure that desegregation injunctions are obeyed.

Actor Hal March Dies Following Lengthy Illness

HOLLYWOOD (AP) - Actor Hal March, the dapper dark-haired master of ceremonies of television's "64,000 Question" quiz show of the 1950s, died Monday. He was 49.

March, whose amiable ad lib style made him a favorite with TV audiences, succumbed at 4:15 a.m. at the University of California Medical Center.

He had undergone lung surgery in November 1969 at UCLA Medical Center and reentered the hospital earlier this month.

A seasoned actor who drew only small parts, March hit it big with the "64,000 Question."

Doctor Says Surgeries On Increase

STANFORD, Calif. (AP) - A Stanford, University doctor says there are too many surgeons in the United States and suggests that, as a result, there may be too many operations.

Writing in the Jan. 15 issue of the New England Journal of Medicine, Dr. John P. Bunker draws his conclusions from a comparative study of surgeons and operations in the United States, England and Wales.

Bunker, who is professor and department chairman of anaesthesia at the Stanford School of Medicine, finds that American surgeons operate nearly twice as often as the English and Welsh.

The number of elective operations in America is much higher. It may be, he says, that Americans are simply affording surgical procedures which are desirable but not essential.

He wonders if the country provides "luxury" surgery for the well-to-do while failing to provide proper care for the poor, and also observes that the United States has an excessive number of physicians in some specialties and not enough in others.

Aside from socio-economic considerations, he finds that the American surgeon "appears to hold higher expectations of what surgery can offer in the treatment of disease."

On the other hand, he says, "The British surgeon is more modest in his expectations, possibly more realistic, but also possibly missing opportunities for surgical care."

Bunker urges more pre-operative consultation, giving as an example a sharp decline in the number of operations under the United Mine Workers health program when consultation was made a requirement several years ago.

Inflation Helps Wishing Well

Camdenton, Mo. (AP) - Inflation is raising revenues at the wishing well, Eddie Miller, manager of Bridal Cave at the nearby Lake of the Ozarks, said Thursday.

Bridal Cave's wishing well is cleaned out yearly of its coins and the money is put into a college scholarship fund for a Camdenton High School Graduate. Miller said among the coins recovered for 1969 there were more than four times the number of quarters and nearly twice the number of dimes as in the previous two years.

The sum collected for 1969, Miller said, was $423. Total for the previous two years was $457.05. The number of visitors to the cave was nearly the same each year, Miller added.

IRS Says Assemble Records Now

Avoid the rush at the end of the income tax filing season by starting now to assemble tax records.

Joseph M. Cullen, district director of Internal Revenue for Northern California, emphasized that cancelled checks, receipts, records of contributions, and other financial records should be gathered now to help you prepare your 1969 Federal income tax return.

Complete records help to insure that taxpayers do not pay more taxes than they should and also make the job of preparing the tax return easier. Cullen said that a copy of last year's return is one of the best guides for preparing the 1969 return.

He also stressed that you should now be accumulating pertinent records and receipts so that tax filing will be easier next year.

U.S. Protests Broadcasts

WASHINGTON (AP) - The United States protested to Russia Monday that Radio Moscow broadcasts of statements attributed to U.S. prisoners of war in North Vietnam amounts to Soviet propaganda against this country.

Taxpayers with questions about their Federal income tax are urged to call their nearest office of the Internal Revenue Service - in the white pages, under U.S. Government, Treasury Department - for free assistance.

WORLD FASHION

Fashion Translating Poses Problems

By BETTE KNIGHT
Copyright 1969 by
Scripps League Newspapers
WASHINGTON - Pantsuits, maxicoats and miniskirts are international - but the language of fashion isn't so easy to translate.

At a fashion show honoring women of the Inter-American Press Association (wives of publishers of papers from the USA and all of Latin and Central America) the mistress of ceremonies tried telling in Spanish a group of Latin-American women about the idea of doing your own thing in fashion. She discussed individualism for a while and then found she had to put it in English.

Even the idea of a show - the work of many of America's finest designers - had its translation problems.

"American" in Latin America can refer to any part of North, Central or South America, but here it was used to mean only the United States.

There were words of wisdom given on how to care for clothes. The main cause of wear in clothes is the dirt, dust and grit that accumulates in the fabric; regular brushing does much to prolong the life of the garment. To give the fabric a chance to keep its shape try not to wear the garment for more than a day or two at a time. Then hang it on a solid shaped and curved wooden hanger. This also reduces the need for frequent pressing.

Empty the pockets of the garment when not in use. Ask your retailer to recommend a reliable dry-cleaner, should this become necessary. Cheap dry-cleaning can ruin your clothes, and pressing while-you-wait is seldom satisfactory.

An overcoat or jacket made of soft fabric, such as cashmere, lambswool or saxony tweed, should be steamed occasionally. Hanging in a bathroom with the hot tap running restores some of the natural moisture removed by excessive central heating.

Such simple clothes care tips can be understood by everyone.

(EDITOR'S NOTE: A free copy of Bette Knight's recent book on fashions, "Both Sexes Should Know," is available at the Tahoe Daily Tribune, South Lake Tahoe and Sierra Sun, Truckee.)

New Charts Compare United States And Russia

Despite the claim, which has some validity, that many Americans are ill-housed, they are much better off than the average

Russian.

This is one of the facts brought out in the new edition of the comparison chart, United States, versus Russia, which is a free public service publication of the National Federation of Independent Business.

Approximately every five years, the business organization's research department collates the latest official government figures available to compare the economic and living standards of the two nations. This new edition is based on the 1967 figures. These one-page charts are subject to heavy requests from educational institutions and other organizations.

On the subject of housing, the 1967 data shows there are 53,024,000 dwelling units to accommodate the United States population of 199,114,000 while in Russia, with a population of 235,200,000 there are only 17,300,000 housing units.

Other interesting comparisons are shown. Although it is reputed that Russia enjoys a virtual trade monopoly with the communist bloc nations, the data shows only $8,536,000,000 in imports as compared to $26,813,000,000 imported by the U.S. On exports, Russia ships out $9,649,000,000 as compared to U.S. exports of $31,243,000,000.

The pattern of mass communications in Russia also furnishes some interesting comparisons. With slightly over 104 million telephones in use in the U.S., there are less than 10 million in use in Russia. But, while in the U.S. slightly over 77 million domestic telegrams are dispatched, in Russia the total is over 322 million.

Animals Offer Little As Heart Donors

MAYWOOD, Ill. (AP) A medical research team says there apparently is little hope that the animal world will provide hearts which can be transplanted successfully into man.

The reason: The red corpuscles in man's blood are too big to pass through the capillaries - the tiny, hair-like blood vessels - of the transplanted organs.

The team experimented with calves, sheep, goats, pigs and dogs at Loyola University Stritch School of Medicine. The findings were published in a recent edition of the Journal of Thoracic and Cardiovascular Surgery.

Only the ape, which has red corpuscles about the same size as man's, offers any apparent hope as a source of hearts for transplantation into man, Dr. Roque Pifarre, one of the researchers, said in an interview.

And the problem of rejection must be solved before this can come about.

Potentially, there are more persons who could benefit from a heart transplant than there are human hearts available. So animal sources, were they feasible, would be a boon.

Dr. Pifarre said the researchers had thought before the work began that calves would be a good source of hearts because of the ready availability and the variety of heart sizes available. The experiments at Loyola, he said, showed that calf hearts cannot be used in man.

There have been three recorded attempts to transplant animal hearts into man, and all failed. The hearts of a pig, a sheep and a chimpanzee were used. That of the ape functioned several hours before it was rejected. The others did not function at all.

Negro Church, White Pastor

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP) - An all-Negro church here is scheduled to get a white minister next month.

The Rev. Douglas H. Miller, assistant pastor of First Presbyterian Church, said he will assume the ministry of all-black Calvary Presbyterian.

The Rev. Mr. Miller, 28, said the move was unusual but, "I think the times demand it... I look at it as a great challenge. My wife and I are both looking forward to it."

versities, it is accredited to other business schools throughout the country. He also said when students are in doubt, they can take a course and can decide within a given period of time whether or not they want to continue. Secretarial, accounting and administrative classes are offered in numerous fields including fashions and airlines as well as classes in grooming, poise and protocol. - Sun Photo

Over The Back Fence

Along the lines of local boy makes good, it was a Reno pilot, Capt. Jess Tranter who piloted last week's maiden flight of Pan American World Airways' first Boeing 747 Jumbo Jet.

Carrying 369 passengers and crewmen, the "Clipper Constitution" flew from New York to London in 6 hours and 20 minutes. Passengers on this first flight were all executives and employees of Pan American.

Our very best to Incline! Fred Facciola who is seriously ill at University of California Hospital in the Bay Area. And a tip of the hat to the Republican Women's Club of Incline Village and Crystal Bay, members of which are doing more than extend best wishes—they're sponsoring a coffee-dessert-card party to help out on overwhelming expenses.

Nancy Uhrig—she who usually shies away from our beat ("no pictures, no publicity, please!")—is caught in the act... She's teaching bridge now. And she's good at it, too.

Nancy said she is going to start more classes come spring... "perhaps in April." She'll cover beginning, intermediate and advanced play in various classes. Preregistration might not be a bad idea suggests Nancy who may be reached at 831-0310.

Incline fourth grade teacher Louise Smith, who submitted Marc Preston's name for the KTHO California Centennial Award (picture in last week's Sun-Incline) said Marc, a sixth grader, has been at Incline since first grade. Over the years both he and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Preston, have contributed much to the community.

"Marc is not only outstanding scholastically and athletically, but is also very well liked by both staff and students," said Mrs. Smith.

"And while Mrs. Preston has volunteered with Girl Scouts, and swim team and has been a Cub Scout Den Mother for three years, Mr. Preston has devoted a great deal of time working with Little League.

"In fact Preston Field was named in his honor," Mrs. Smith concluded.

Last Christmas, which isn't yet a month gone, may be "old hat" to most of us, but to Paul and Cathy Mountain and a host of relatives, it was a day they'll not soon forget.

Paul and Cathy's first child, their son Erin, was born on Christmas Day at Tahoe Forest Hospital. And it just so happens that Erin is the first-born boy in the Mountain family for several generations. Congratulations Paul and Cathy on both counts!

Calling all Contestants—for "Miss Snowmobile of Incline Village," that is, Helene Batt said the surprise bonus of the contest is that the winner will be sponsored by Kings Castle Hotel and Casino as its entry for the "Miss Snowmobile of the United States" contest.

"This could result in winning both contests," says Helene. "But in any event, as the Incline Miss Snowmobile, the winner will receive numerous prizes and trophies and will reign and share in all the festivities with the national winner. And that means nationwide publicity!"

Better get your entries in, girls. Just call Helene, 831-1111. And remember, it's open to all North Shore young ladies, including those living in Truckee-Donner area.

Jesse and Carmelita Ramsey (he's lieutenant in charge at Washoe County Sheriff's Incline Substation) have returned from their annual three week trek to see relatives and friends throughout California. Both report they're already back into normal routine and counting the days until another year rolls around.

The Ramseys spent Christmas in Fresno with their daughter, Mrs. Orville Little and Jesse's mother, Mrs. Fannie Ramsey. The elder Mrs. Ramsey is now doing nicely at a convalescent home after being seriously ill most of the year.

From there the Incline pair went to Santa Barbara to visit Carmelita's family including her mother, Theresa Mendez and a brother and his family, Mr. and Mrs. Laurence Mendez. Taking off for a "tourist" jaunt on New Years the Ramseys and Mendezes went to San Diego where they visited the Sea World and the zoo, stopped in San Juan Capistrano and Universal City on the way back to Santa Barbara.

Returning to Incline, Jesse and Carmelita spent a few days in Fresno again and stopped at Hearst Castle in San Simeon before hitting Donner summit, chain requirements and home.

OPEN HOUSE - Gardner Mein, president of the Greater North Lake Tahoe Chamber of Commerce, and Vaughn Burlingham, project manager of Incline Village, Inc., discuss Incline chamber activities during open house at new chamber office in the Incline Village Shopping Center, Country Club and Tahoe Boulevard. Chamber Manager Betty Layton and Mein greeted several Incline-Crystal Bay members during the event held earlier this month. Main office of the chamber is in Tahoe City.

TOP SHOWMAN - Little Richard continues to pull in capacity crowds in Harrah's Stateline Cabaret, where he will appear through Jan. 28. The popular singer-pianist predicts a reincarnation of rock 'n roll during the Seventies.

Writing Easy

Shelley Berman says that the writing of his comedy monologues comes rather easily, "But it's the not writing that's difficult."

He explains, "After a routine is written, I have to fight the urge to keep adding little goodies. Otherwise, a good five-minute bit can become a bad 25."

Richard Sees Rock 'N Roll Revival

"The music of the Seventies will be rock 'n roll," predicts Little Richard, still going strong after 15 years. "Everything points to rock 'n roll coming back."

Little Richard has pulled in capacity crowds each night in Harrah's Stateline Cabaret, where he will appear through Jan. 28. "Wherever we go we play to overflow rooms, not only across the U. S., but in Germany, Sweden, Switzerland, South America and England - everywhere!"

"We drew 60,000 people in one night during a pop festival in Atlantic City a few months ago," declared the forceful singer, whose expressive and individual sound helped popularize rock 'n roll.

A native of Macon, Georgia and the son of Rev. and Mrs. Penniman, Little Richard proudly admits his music originally came from "the church and the gospel." As a youngster he sang and played the piano in his father's church choir.

In 1956 he recorded "Tutti Frutti", the first of a long string of hits that would help strengthen rock 'n roll's position in the music world and sell some 32 million records for him.

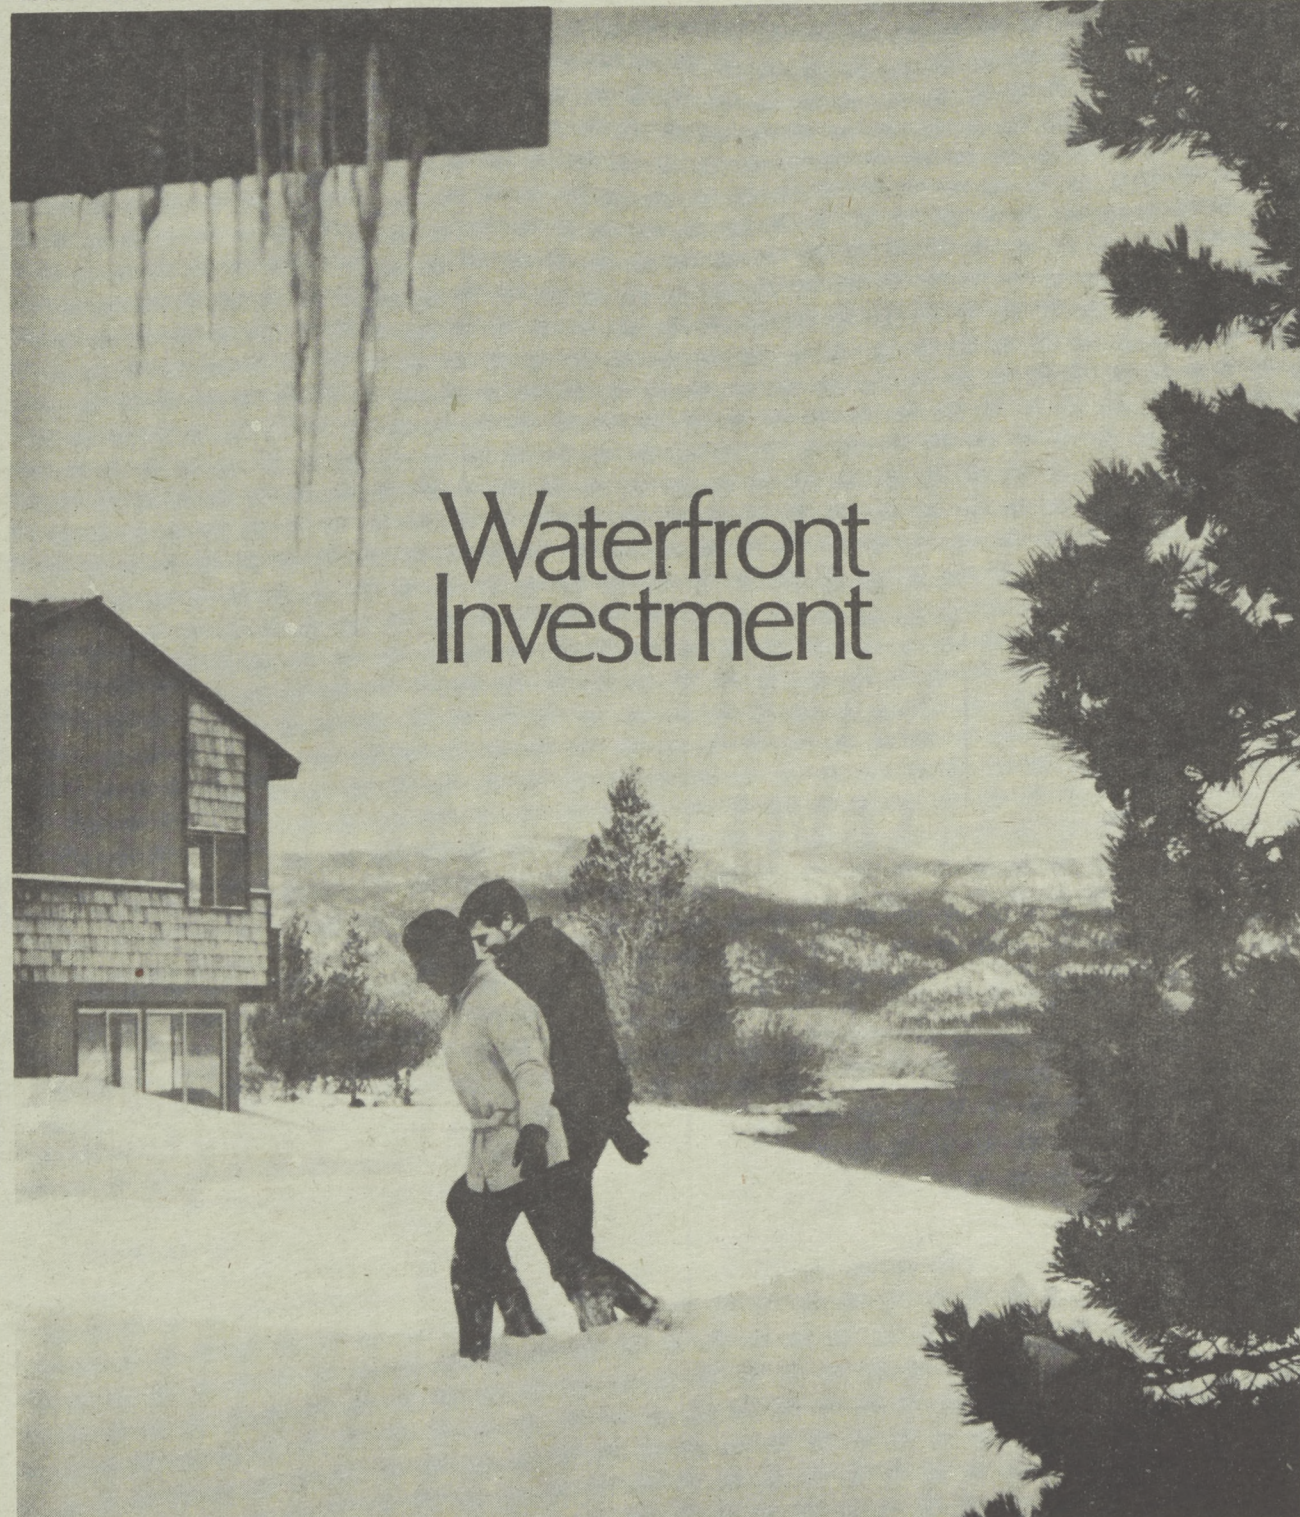

Rock 'n roll in the mid-Fifties was a mixture of rhythm and blues and country-western. The lyrics were simple, the beat easy to move to and the new sound gave the young a sense of individuality.

The central theme was girls surrounded by hip love, unhip parents and Saturday night dances, evidenced in Little Richard hits such as "Lucille," "Bonie Moronie", "Lawdy Miss Clawdy", "Long Tall Sally" and "Jenny, Jenny".

In the early Sixties young people who had been turned on by Little Richard, Elvis Presley, Fats Domino (another Harrah's lounge attraction coming this year) and others were copying these sounds.

Along came the Beatles, the Rolling Stones, Donovan, Otis Redding, James Brown, Credence Clearwater Revival and Blood, Sweat and Tears, plus dozens more.

Love is still an integral part of the music, but new ingredients such as war, drugs, protest, politics and alienation have been added. The music of the Sixties was much more complex.

DIETER'S DELIGHT - Anyone who has been through the ordeal of a crash diet or has endured weight reducing meals will react with delight to Totie Fields, scheduled to appear in Harrah's Tahoe South Shore Room Jan. 30-31.

Vikki Carr To Take Top Spot

As a young, relatively unknown singer several years ago Vikki Carr used to sneak into Harrah's Tahoe South Shore Room to watch some of her favorite singers perform.

"One day you'll be up there singing," predicted a friendly maitre'd, who would lift the velvet rope for her once the show began.

The Cinderella story was completed when the stunning songstress stepped onto the South Shore Room stage Jan. 20, 1966, in an emotion-charged performance. She appeared with country singer Roger Miller.

After three years and three days Miss Carr returns to the Tahoe headline room with top billing Jan. 23-24 with twice-nightly shows.

Miss Totie Fields, a girl who thinks thin and sexy but who looks plump and, well, not exactly like Raquel Welch, brings her humor to Harrah's Tahoe Jan. 30-31.

Anyone who has been through the ordeal of a crash diet or has endured weight reducing meals will react with delight to Totie Fields.

In an age in which style is often substituted for vocal ability, the fast-rising Miss Carr has that rare ability to give every song its own individual treatment.

The super-strong voiced Miss Carr has an awesomely unlimited vocal capability, which complements an outpouring of sensitivity.

Her voice has no limit in depth and is one that can belt out a blues number or slide into a lyrical song with equal facility.

Miss Carr was born the eldest of seven children in El Paso, Texas, and is of Mexican-American heritage.

She made her public debut at age four, singing "Adeste Fideles" and "Silent Night" in Latin at a Christmas program.

Crystal Bay, North Lake Tahoe, Nevada

In high school she enrolled in all the music courses available and sang with the a capella choir, as well as appearing in school musical and dramatic productions.

Her weekend bookings increased following graduation, and responding to encouragement from her father, embarked upon a professional career in show business.

She traveled to Reno, Lake Tahoe, Las Vegas and Hawaii, where Carlita, daughter of Carlos Cardona, became Vikki Carr.

Liberty Records signed her to a long-term contract and rushed a single record to its distributors. The record proved to be a smash in Australia, prompting a hurried tour of that continent.

Miss Carr was later signed for a 26-week run as featured vocalist on the "Ray Anthony Show" TV series. National appearances on the late-night Steve Allen and Johnny Carson shows boosted her stock.

She headlined at such clubs as the Coconut Grove in Los Angeles, the Tidelands in Houston, the Drake Hotel in Chicago and the Fairmount Hotel in San Francisco.

She made her dramatic debut on a segment of "The Bing Crosby Show" and was a frequent guest on "The Danny Kaye Show." A film debut and a TV series are still ahead for the 5-2, 112-pound singer.

Supporting Miss Carr both nights will be Aaron and Freddie, a ventriloquist act, and the Rudells, masters of the trampoline. The Brian Farnon Orchestra will compliment the show also.

During February the South Shore Room will host Wayne Newton Feb. 6-7, comic-impressionist Frank Gorshin Feb. 13-14 and singer John Davidson Feb. 20-22 and Feb. 27-28.

TAHOE ENCORE - Stunning, strong-voiced Vikki Carr will embellish Harrah's Tahoe South Shore Room with twice-nightly performances Jan. 23-24. Miss Carr will be making her first appearance at Harrah's in three years.

Royal Show Band Set For Harrah's

From the same country which gave us St. Patrick, potatoes and leprechauns comes the Royal Show Band, scheduled to open for three weeks Jan. 29 in Harrah's Stateline Cabaret.

Rock 'n roll singer Little Richard is the current headliner in the Tahoe lounge, and will entertain through Jan. 28.

All seven members of the Royal Show Band were raised and still live in Waterford, Ireland. They celebrated their 11th anniversary together last St. Patrick's Day.

The group has worked all over Ireland and England as well as in the United States and Canada. U.S. TV credits include an appearance on "Frank Sinatra Jr. and Family and Friends" and the Mike Douglas Show. They have also logged dates at the Desert Inn and Stardust Hotel in Las Vegas.

Each individual in the band, led by Michael Coppinger on the saxophone, sing and play various musical instruments and range in style from Irish airs to country and western to pop and rock.

Other members of the Royal Show Band include Ed Sullivan, trumpet; Tom Dunphy, bass; Brendan Bowyer, trombone; Chuck Matthews, drummer; Tim Conlon, guitar; and Jerry Cullen, piano.

Ray Frushay made his Harrah's Tahoe debut Jan. 8.

The tall, talented Texan employs his powerful voice in singing a variety of songs, like "It's Not Unusual," "Lord You Gave Me a Mountain," "Ruby" and "Raindrops Keep Falling On My Head" to name a few.

The International 5½ group which has been performing during the past four years in every major city on the Pacific Coast, Nevada and Hawaii, bowed in the lounge Jan. 22 and will appear through Feb. 11.

The curtain calls will open Jan. 29 for two weeks.

Jan Barker Currently At Kings Castle

Jan Barker Trio is currently holding forth in the Casino Lounge of the Kings Castel Hotel and Casino entertaining for listening and dancing nightly.

Miss Barker, who plays a piano-organ and sings up a storm, is well-known in Northern California and the Reno-Tahoe area for her fine vocal talents and danceable music. The young and beautiful leader is assisted on the music stand by Will Newman on bass guitar and George Gold on drums.

Newman had his own group for a number of years and played in Sacramento and San Francisco. He also sings many of the specialty numbers and is considered one of the top bass players in the area.

Gold has been with numerous groups and has played many of the top nightclubs around the Reno-Tahoe circuit.

The Jan Barker Trio has worked at the Riverside Hotel in Reno and the Sahara-Tahoe Hotel at South Shore. The group plays nightly except Monday from 8 p.m. until 2 a.m. during the performance handle as many requests as possible. They have been booked for an indefinite stay.

PINE CONE CREW - Carey-Garfin Four are now providing early morning entertainment for the night people at Hotel Sahara-Tahoe.

The group begins its musical presentations at 12 midnight in the recently revived Pine Cone Lounge.

All-Star Game Telecast Set

The Third Annual American Basketball Association All-Star Game at the Indiana State Fairgrounds Coliseum, Indianapolis, Ind., will be broadcast on the CBS Television Network Saturday, Jan. 24.

The game will bring together the stars of the ABA's East Division against the stars of the West Division.

The six East Division teams are the Indiana Pacers, Kentucky Colonels, Carolina Cougars, Pittsburgh Pipers, New York Mets and Miami Floridians.

The five West Division teams are the New Orleans Buccaneers, Washington Caps, Los Angeles Stars, Dallas Chaparrals and Denver Rockets.

BELLO'S GIRLS - Four talented members of the Al Bello Show will be with the troupe when it opens a three-week engagement in the Juniper Lounge of Hotel Sahara-Tahoe Jan. 29. The Bello presentation features music, dancing and girls, girls, girls.

Bette Davis Guests On Series

Bette Davis, in one of her rare television appearances, guest-stars on the ABC Television Network's "It Takes a Thief" in "Touch of Magic," airing Monday, Jan. 26, as Bessie Grindle, an arthritic, destitute jewel thief who was an inspiration to Al Mundy in his formative years.

Russell Continues As Juniper Headliner

Dynamic Andy Russell will top the marquee in Hotel Sahara-Tahoe's Juniper Lounge through Jan. 28. The gorgeous Al Bello Show will follow, Jan. 29 - Feb. 18.

Russell's show is GOOD. It is a well-balanced blend of pop classics and current favorites, spiced with personality and zest than make each performance something special.

Andy is charming. His matinee-idol good looks, big brown eyes and soaring voice are enough to send any woman swooning. There's more than music to catch the masculine eye, too: lovely Carol Kal. Carol is the kind of girl who comes along once in a very long while. She's young, beautiful, charming and unbelievably talented.

Andy and Carol are backed by a superb group of sidemen, headed by the inscrutable Eddie Cano. Cano's touch on the 88's is sure and sensitive. He has backed Andy for many years, and can bring out every delicate nuance in the arrangements.

Bello, who opens Jan. 29, has a rare eye for feminine beauty. His troupe boasts nine of the loveliest dancers and musicians to be found anywhere.

The Al Bello Show is fun for all, and anyone can get in on the action. Audience volunteers often steal the show while dancing onstage with Al's beautiful girls. Eddie Cash & Co., adds to the fun. Cash is a man of 218 voices, all devastatingly funny, amazingly accurate impressions of popular vocalists.

Cherry and Don round out the dusk 'til dawn lineup.

The Carey-Garfin Four makes music for night owls in the Pine Cone Bar. The popular quartet takes the stage at midnight, entertaining into the wee, small hours of the morning.

In the Tyrolean Apres Ski Haus, it's Douglas and Lonerio and they're great. The LA-based pair offer a solid beat and every kind of popular music. Their arrangements are driving, powerful and eminently danceable.

The Juniper Lounge, Pine Cone and Tyrolean Apres Ski Haus are open nightly, with a no-cover, no-minimum policy. In the High Sierra Theatre "Take The Money And Run," starring Woody Allen, will be shown through Jan. 27.

"Funny Girl," starring Barbara Streisand and Omar Sharif, starts Jan. 28.

Movie showtime is 8:15 p.m., seating begins at 7:30 p.m.

Halfway O.K.

Connie Kreski apparently believes that half a loaf is better than none - or one. The stunning young actress, who recently turned down a role in the motion picture, "The Christian Licorice Store," because it called for a nude scene, will be seen as a topless waitress on the ABC Television Network's "Love, American Style" Friday Jan. 23.

Johnny Ukelele Signed For Stint At Harvey's

Johnny Ukelele is called the virtuoso of the strings. It is said his unique use of the ukelele has raised it from "just a chording instrument" to the level of an effective musician's tool. He also sings, plays guitar and bass, and does some dancing. In other words, "An excellent all-around entertainer" is appearing at Harvey's Tiki Lounge at the Top of the Wheel and in the Theatre Lounge at Harvey's Resort Hotel through Jan. 31.

He has appeared in many of the best clubs and hotels on the West Coast during the last 15 years. His television credits include

Nabors Hosts Vikki Carr

Nightclub and recording star, Vikki Carr, is the special guest star on "The Jim Nabors Hour," Thursday, Jan. 29 in color on the CBS Television Network.

Miss Carr, longtime friend of Nabors since they were both singing "for their supper" at a small Santa Monica, Calif., nightclub, gets a chance to show her flair for comedy as well as display her more well-known singing voice.

Host Nabors sings a medley of Mexican songs with Miss Carr, whose real name is Florencia Bisenia de Casillas Martinez Cardona.

Miss Carr's solos are "Easy to be Hard," and "Games People Play."

"The Harry Owens' Show," "You Asked For It," "The Tullalah Bankhead Big Show," "The Mike Stokely Show," "Art Linkletter's House Party Show," and many others, including appearances on the "Hawaiian Eye" series, "Adventures in Paradise" and "The Wackiest Ship in the Army." He appeared in the movie "Gidget Goes Hawaiian" and made the entire Ukelele sound track for "Go For Broke" with Van Johnson.

Jethro Flying

Max Baer, who plays Jethro on "The Beverly Hillbillies" on the CBS Television Network, and his wife, Joanne, recently received their private pilots' licenses.

MUSICAL STAR - Johnny Ukelele, a virtuoso of the strings, will be appearing at Harvey's Resort Hotel through Jan. 31.

Show Reflects Artist's Life

A filmed portrait of distinguished British artist Graham Sutherland, perhaps best known in America for his paintings of such luminaries as Winston Churchill, Somerset Maugham, Baron Rothschild and Helena Rubinstein, will be reflected in "The Mirror and the Mirage," an informational special to be presented Sunday, Jan. 25 in color on the CBS Television Network.

The thoughts, ambitions and accomplishments of the contemporary artist, who sees mystery in everyday reality, are featured on the program, which is directed by Pier Paolo Ruggieri. Included are informal chats with Sutherland, between him and British art historian and critic Douglas Cooper, and with Mrs. Sutherland.

To demonstrate these causes and effects, cameras range from the green ruralism of Kent and the stark coast of Western Wales to the French Riviera and a Venice rarely glimpsed by a tourist.

Hall — Former Soccer Announcer

Monty Hall, host of the ABC Television Network's "Let's Make a Deal," which moves to a new night starting Saturday

Jan. 24, was the first soccer announcer in the country. This was in his young radio days in New York City.

Cal-Neva Books Austin Trio

Tony Austin & Company, one of the freshest sounds in the music world today, will open at the Cal-Neva Lodge March 2. The company consists of Austin, playing the guitar and banjo, Elmer Nemeth, bass, and Bob Jackson on the drums.

The trio is well-known in the North Tahoe area after entertaining at the Lake Tahoe Hotel, now Kings Castle, for two years, and recently completing an engagement at the Chataux in Incline Village.

Following a 24-day cruise through the Caribbean aboard the S.S. Oriana, the trio will hang their hats at Cal-Neva and entertain nightly in the Terrace Lounge.

Austin, heading the group, is a versatile musician. His many talents include guitar, banjo, vocal stylings and humorous interjections.

Nemeth, bass player and vocalist has a wide variety of impersonations to enhance the talents of the group.

Jackson, a little guy with a big smile, handles the percussion part of the group with great skill. He also adds a vocal sound that reminds one of a combination of Nat King Cole and Mel Torme.

All three of the performers reside in the Reno-Tahoe area, and their local following is second to none in Tahoe's North Shore.

Tony Austin & Company is a group not to be missed for their biggest asset is the ability to involve the audience in dancing, laughing and general, all-around merriment.

Carol Channing Tells Enery Secret

"My energy comes from discipline," says dynamic Carol Channing, guest star on "Yesterday, Today and Tomorrow," musical variety special to be presented Wednesday, Jan. 28 in color on the CBS Television Network. "It takes courage to say 'no' to many party invitations but maintaining your health is mostly up to you,"
